Glendale Wins Fight for Postal Increase

DEMAND FOR MORE HELP APPROVED

Jackson Gets Authority to Enlarge Permanent Force Here

Carrying his demands for a stronger permanent force for the Glendale postoffice up to the highest officials of the postoffice department at Washington, D. C., Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson has succeeded in securing the addition of eight clerks and eighteen carriers to the Glendale staff.

This information was conveyed to Assistant Postmaster George Hallett in a wire that was received from Postmaster Jackson this morning, following a series of conferences that the latter had held with department heads in the national capital.

Increase Imperative
These additions bring the total of the regular clerks up to twenty-eight, and of the carriers to thirty-seven, the increase being made imperative through the growth of the city's population and the inclusion of many new subdivisions in the Glendale city limits.

During the past few months Postmaster Jackson has been in close communication with John H. Bartlett, first assistant postmaster general, who visited California last summer and who, at that time, promised to co-operate with the local postal officials to the limit to insure that the service here be maintained on a basis commensurate with Glendale's growth.

On the occasion of his visit of inspection here, Mr. Bartlett, after a detailed investigation of every phase of the conditions governing postal service in Glendale, assured Captain Jackson he would use his influence to secure the additional appropriations required to maintain the Glendale office at the highest possible efficiency, and Congressman Walter F. Lineberger, who accompanied him, also pledged himself to work for the improvement of the local service.

Captain Jackson went east several weeks ago to attend the annual convention of the Exchange Clubs at Springfield, Mass., but since the close of the convention he has been laying siege to the postoffice department officials to secure additional funds and employees for the Glendale office.

Many of the newly appointed employees have been attached to the staff here as auxiliaries for some time, but the ruling from Washington places them on the rolls as regulars.

Case Referees Game at Berkeley Saturday

John R. Case, 117 East Fairview, advertising manager for the Walter H. Liemert Co., 246 South Brand boulevard, returned last night from Berkeley, where he refereed a game between the University of California and the Santa Clara college, and in which the Bears piled up a score of 48 to 0. Mr. Case, who is a member of the 1913 class of the University of Illinois, will officiate in next Saturday's game between the Bears and the California Olympic club. During his residence in the Bay region Mr. Case was in constant demand as referee in many of the big football games.

Foothill Bowlers to Open Season Tonight

The Foothill Bowling league, consisting of four teams each from Glendale, Pasadena and Hollywood, will open its season tonight with a game between the Psenner Brothers team and the I. B. Carlock pin stars. Wednesday night Ed Nisles' team will meet the Gateways on the local alleys.

The Glendale Radio Gas team will meet the Venice American legion bowlers at the Recreation Center tomorrow night, Tuesday, October 9, in a major league game.

A meeting of the Fraternal league will be held Wednesday night at the Recreation Center at 8 o'clock, and representatives of all the organizations in the league are urged to attend.

Three Die in Crashes; Man Escapes Assassin; Two Bank Robberies

Three dead, two dying and three suffering from severe injuries was the toll exacted by traffic accidents early today and yesterday in Los Angeles and vicinity.

E. H. Erhardt died at the general hospital early today from injuries received shortly after midnight when the machine in which he was riding with Miss Blanche Follen hit a "closed road" sign near Compton and overturned. Miss Follen was also in the hospital as a result of the crash.

Ralph Miller, 13, found seriously injured yesterday by motorists at Adams and Yutan streets, Los Angeles, died a few hours later at the home of a doctor, where he was taken.

George Brenner, who had just arrived from Dayton, Ohio, was instantly killed when struck by an automobile at Berkeley and Glendale boulevards. The machine did not stop.

BANDITS GET $3000 IN LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 8.—Commanding every one in the establishment to "stick 'em up," two bandits shortly before noon today held up the Sunset boulevard branch of the Citizens Trust and Savings bank, scooped up all the cash in sight and escaped in an automobile driven by a third bandit who remained in the machine. The bandits are believed to have secured $3,000. Though each carried a large revolver, no shots were fired.

HUGE HAUL MADE IN OAKLAND

OAKLAND, Cal., Oct. 8.—Five heavily armed bandits held up the Seventh street branch of the Oakland Bank of Savings shortly before noon today and escaped with $10,000. A member of the police motorcycle squad gave chase, but lost the bandit car.

GROCERYMAN SHOT BY ENEMY, BELIEF

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 8.—Pursued, deputy sheriffs believe, by an old time enemy, Vic Cheney, grocer in East Slauson street, was today the target of an assassin's bullet, according to Cheney's report to the sheriff's office. The apparent murder attempt was believed to have been made when the bullet barely grazed Cheney's right arm, passed through a show case in the store and shattered a mirror, according to Cheney who rushed to the sheriff's office to report the matter in person.

FEDERATION GOES AFTER RADICAL EDITOR

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 8.—William F. Dunne, editor of the Butte Bulletin, was under fire by the administration forces of the American Federation of Labor today, and indications were that he would lose his seat as a delegate when adjournment was called at noon by President Gompers. It was the first major offensive of the administration forces in what is said to be a consistent attack on alleged "reds" and their policies.

PILOT DIES IN PLUNGE OF FREAK PLANE

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 8.—Harry Quinn, aviator, flying airship No. 13, invented by Professor Charles T. Boehnlein of the University of Minnesota, was instantly killed at 2 p. m. today when one of the wings of the ship crumpled 300 feet in the air and the plane came to the ground in a nose dive with Quinn helpless at the controls.

NEGRO DOCTOR CONFESSES SLAYING NURSE

PITTSBURG, Oct. 8.—Lorenz Savage, 24, an alleged negro voodoo doctor, was held by the police today charged with first degree murder in connection with the slaying of Miss Elsie Barthel, 28 years old, a nurse, near the deserted Hussey mansion in the east end district. Savage is said to have confessed to the police.

SIX LOSE LIVES IN COLORADO MINE BLAST

DENVER, Oct. 8.—Superintendent R. P. Scott of the Mid-West Coal company, and five miners were killed in a gas explosion Sunday, two miles east of Palisades, Colo., according to a report reaching here this morning. George McKee of Ohio, was the first body recovered and was badly mutilated.

SEEK CONSPIRATORS IN BOOZE PLOT

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 8.—Federal agents along the Pacific coast were said today to be in possession of descriptions of four arch-conspirators and leaders of wholesale bootlegging operations here, who offered $10,000 reward for the killing of H. H. Doley, chief California prohibition officer.

VANCOUVER LONGSHOREMEN TO STRIKE

VANCOUVER, Oct. 8.—At a crowded mass meeting here Sunday afternoon a decision was reached whereby 1500 longshoremen will strike at 5 o'clock this afternoon, tying up all greater Vancouver shipping, unless employers concede a five cents an hour bonus for handling lumber. This bonus was in effect from 1903 until 1920.

WALTON AND KLAN REVIVE QUARREL

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 8.—While legislative committees were arranging today to institute impeachment proceedings against Governor Walton when they met Thursday, the executive was preparing testimony for the extraordinary session he called to "unmask the Klan."

DOZEN INJURED IN CHICAGO TRAIN WRECK

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—A dozen persons were reported seriously injured today when an electric Aurora-Elgin limited train crashed into a local east of the suburb, Elmhurst. Northwestern trains were bringing injured to Chicago hospitals soon after the wreck.

FOOD PRICES TAKE JUMP IN U. S.

September Figures Show Los Angeles Paying 4 Pct. More for Edibles

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The retail cost of food took another jump in September in eighteen cities throughout the country.

It ranged from 1 per cent in Houston, Indianapolis, Jacksonville, Savannah and Washington to 4 per cent in St. Louis and Los Angeles, the department of labor announced today.

An increase of 3 per cent was reported for Baltimore, Fall River, New Haven and New Orleans, while in Chicago, Kansas City, Norfolk, Providence, Richmond, Rochester, N. Y., and St. Paul, the increase amounted to 2 per cent.

During the year ending September 15 the retail cost of food increased 10 per cent in Indianapolis, 9 per cent in Chicago and Baltimore, 8 per cent in New Haven and Fall River, 7 per cent in Norfolk, Providence, Rochester and Washington, 6 per cent in Richmond, St. Louis, St. Paul and Savannah, 5 per cent in Jacksonville, Kansas City, Los Angeles and Portland, Maine, and 4 per cent in New Orleans and Houston.

Business Better Here, Revenue Report Shows

Record-breaking internal revenue receipts in Southern California were reported by Collector Rex Goodell in a special statement sent to Washington yesterday.

A feature of the report was that the sale of documentary stamps in September was 49 per cent greater than during the corresponding month in 1922 and that the sales for the first quarter of the fiscal year, ending September 30, has increased 51 per cent. As documentary stamps are used on all capital stock issues, conveyances and other business transactions, the increase in the sale of these stamps indicates an unusual activity in all lines of business.

BRALY FUNERAL THIS AFTERNOON

Prominent Pioneer Will Be Buried at San Jose With Other Relatives

Southern Californians paid final tribute to John Hyde Braly this afternoon at a service at the Harold Braly home, 544 South Gramercy place, Los Angeles, and tonight Mr. Braly's body will be taken north for interment at San Jose, where he lived as a boy and young man, and where his father and mother and his first wife, Martha Jane Hughes Braly are buried. Mr. Braly's death occurred Saturday morning at his home, 505 North Brand boulevard, Glendale.

Impressive simplicity marked the services this afternoon. Dr. Robert Freeman, pastor of the Pasadena Presbyterian church, officiating. A profusion of beautiful floral pieces expressed the esteem of friends and organizations in all parts of California and the United States.

Mr. Braly, who was 89 years of age at the time of his death, crossed the plains in a covered wagon in 1847. During his long residence in California he distinguished himself as educator, banker, politician and philanthropist. He was a member of the Presbyterian church, a Shriner and Knight Templar, a Son of the American Revolution, founder of the Southern California Savings Bank of Los Angeles, former superintendent of schools in Santa Clara county, prominent Republican, former trustee of the State Normal School at San Jose, head of the Glendale Red Cross during the world war and affiliated with many other social and civic organizations.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Herman Janss, two sons, Arthur H. Braly and Harold Braly, and by six grandchildren of Los Angeles.

The only service at San Jose will be that at the grave.

BANDIT TRIO RAID FAMED N. Y. HOTEL

Charlie Chaplin Is Among Guests Roused by Theft in Ritz-Carlton

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Three armed bandits early today penetrated one of the boldest holdups ever staged in New York.

They entered the fashionable Ritz-Carlton hotel and at pistol point forced the night manager and three employees into the elevator, took them to the basement and then smashed a jewelry show case in the lobby, making off with diamonds and stones worth $6,000.

Leave Rich Prize
The noise of the breaking glass brought a night watchman from one of the upper floors and they dashed out leaving $50,000 worth of gems untouched.

For sheer daring and nerve, the holdup was almost without precedent in New York.

The robbers entered the luxurious lobby, alighting from an automobile in front. A gun was poked into the ribs of George Bradley, head bell boy. He made no outcry.

Charlie Chaplin There
The bandits walked quietly up to the night manager and night porter, whipped out guns and backed them into the elevator. While one of them covered the cowed men, another of the bandits smashed the jewelry case with the butt of his pistol.

Charlie Chaplin, screen comedian, was one of the guests aroused by the excitement.

NEW RESTAURANT TO COST $60,000

San Fernando Site Chosen for Establishment of High Class Cafe

A strictly first-class restaurant, totaling an investment of $60,000 will be installed in the stucco building at the northeast corner of Palmer avenue and San Fernando road, the property having been purchased from L. H. Wilson by William Schneider and Harry B. Devine, both Los Angeles restaurant men of note.

The deal was handled through the Burton Realty company and Twining & Myers, both Glendale realty firms. The consideration is reported as exceeding $35,000. The balance of the total investment of $60,000 will be put into alterations and fixtures.

William Schneider installed the fixtures at the Bristol cafe, Los Angeles, and also installed the fixtures at the famous cafe of Nat Goodwin on the pier at Santa Monica. Harry B. Devine has been a proprietor of successful restaurants for many years.

Outline Plans
"We have watched Glendale develop," states Mr. Schneider. "and have decided the time has now come when the city will support a restaurant of the highest type. No money will be spared to make the appointments of this establishment keeping with the class of patronage we will solicit."

"The cuisine, especially, will be of the finest. We have secured the services of one of the leading chefs and can guarantee satisfaction in this important respect. Luncheons and dinners will be served but no breakfasts. We will announce at a later time our opening date."

Reports from various sections of the southern part of the state and the San Joaquin valley, to the effect that rain, walnut and bean crops might be injured by the rain, are scouted by Col. H. B. Hershey, weather observer, who declares that the rain will be of benefit to the crops.

PEACEFUL WORLD!

TROY, N. Y., Oct. 8.—State Trooper Roy A. Donovan, 27, of Troy, was shot and killed by bootleggers ten miles south of Glens Falls early today. State troops were investigating a holdup when several men in a high powered car opened fire. Donovan dropped dead as the car escaped.

PARIS, Oct. 8.—A band of 300 native riflemen attacked a platoon of sixty native French camel troops fifty miles north of Timbuctoo, annihilating the whole detachment after a seven hour battle said a dispatch from Dekert today.

DUSSELDORF, Oct. 8.—Two Germans and a Frenchman were killed in a riot at the Annabelle mine, near Bechum, early today.

TEACHERS ATTEND 'SCHOOL' TODAY

Institute Held Here Teems With Defense of Our Present System

The only occupations open to youth of 15 or 16 are "blind alley" ones.

The proportion of national income expended for education is no greater now than it was in 1913.

Two classes of people say children are kept too long in school—employers who seek boy labor and parents who live off the earnings.

The youth of today do decided better work in the three R's than did the children of fifty years ago.

Those are extracts from the talk made by E. Morris Cox, assistant superintendent of the Oakland school system, at the district institute of teachers today at Glendale Union High school.

Schools are closed to pupils today while the teachers "went to school."

About 150 high school and grammar school teachers are in attendance.

H. S. Upjohn, assistant county superintendent of schools, brought the official message this morning from Mark Keppel, county superintendent of schools.

George U. Moyses, principal of the local high school system, presided this morning. A selection by the high school orchestra was followed by several numbers by a girls' glee club.

Richardson D. White, superintendent of the local grammar school system, is presiding this afternoon. Community singing led by Miss Mildred Hughes of 409 West Lomita avenue, assistant supervisor of music in Glendale.

The program this afternoon included a speech by Roy Clond, superintendent of school for San Mateo county and a few observations by Melvin Neel, member of the Long Beach Board of Education and supervising teacher of the Saugus district of the county rural schools.

The principal speech of the morning was made by E. Morris Cox, assistant superintendent of the Oakland school system. For a number of years he has been president of the California Council of Education and a leading figure in the National Education association. His topic was "The Present Crisis in Education."

Outline Criticism
Criticism of the public school system, in his opinion, may be divided into four complaints: First, that too many subjects are being taught; second, that results are superficial; third, that pupils are required to spend too long a time in school; fourth, that education costs too much.

"If we are teaching too many subjects," he remarked, "we are doing it because the public demands it. The public demanded that music, manual training, domestic science, drawing and other subjects be added to the curriculum, but made no provision for the elimination of any studies. But all this variety of subjects is necessary in order to give a diversity of training to the diversity of human nature."

Army Trucks to Meet Wild West Veterans

More than six thousand former members of the Ninety-first "Wild West" Division are expected to gather next Saturday and Sunday in San Francisco at an annual reunion preceding the American Legion National convention, according to C. L. Wyman, 430 Piedmont park. He and others will go from here.

Colonel Wyman said that, to carry out the military atmosphere of the affair, a fleet of army trucks from the Presidio, under command of Captain Paul Ratten, U. S. A., will meet all the incoming trains and boats bearing the veterans. Headquarters will be established in the civic auditorium where a corps of girls will register the visitors, and Boy Scouts will assist the veterans as guides.

JURY IN STOKES TRIAL SELECTED

Sensational Case of Millionaire Being Heard in N. Y. Court Today

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The jury that will decide whether W. E. D. Stokes, multi-millionaire clubman, is to have a divorce from his pretty young wife, Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes, who is 42 years his junior, was completed today in almost record time.

The last juror was selected just before noon, in slightly less than two hours' time. Eight of them are married and fathers, Mrs. Stokes put her "O. K." on them one by one as they went in to the box. Finally accepted, the jury was composed of three engineers, four manufacturers, a realtor, two exporters, a pressman, and one who gave his occupation as investigator. Harry N. Hitchcock, an engineer, was chosen foreman.

Meet in Courtroom
Max D. Steuer, noted divorce lawyer, who is Stokes' chief counsel, outlined the case to the jurors, and told what Stokes expected to prove.

Stokes and his beautiful young wife met today for the first time in three years. They faced each other across the courtroom in New York supreme court at the start of a divorce trial that probably will be one of the most sensational in court annals.

Mrs. Stokes, attired in a severely tailored blue suit, with wisps of her titian hair peeping out from a close-fitting, small hat, was the first to arrive. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. A. S. Miller of Denver, and Mrs. C. H. Mescevey, a friend, also of Denver. Her attorneys, Samuel Untermyer and Isadore Shapiro, sat with her.

25,000 Pages of Evidence
There were 25,000 pages of this "evidence" and pictures galore, according to the attorneys.

By it Stokes hopes to prove that his wife was unfaithful to him with numerous co-respondents and that she misrepresented her station in life when he married her. He hopes to have the custody of their two children.

Stokes spent $300,000 in securing the evidence, it is said, over a period of several years.

Merchants Warned of Bogus Check Passers

Warnings that many bad check passers are beginning their operations throughout the Southland were sounded at the weekly luncheon of the Glendale Merchants' association at Jensen's Egyptian village today, and the members were notified by the Pasadena Credit association officials to be on their guard against accepting checks from anyone who is not properly identified.

The Glendale police department, President Owen C. Emery stated, have agreed to co-operate to the fullest extent in bringing bogus check passers to justice, and the members were urged to communicate with the police in the event of their being victimized at any time.

An offer of H. L. Leavitt to repeat the Glendale Industrial exposition next spring was tabled.

The usual routine business was transacted.

Mystic Smilers Visit Chapter at Burbank

The Glendale chapter of the Mystic Smile, of which Charles E. Rich is Grand Mystic Smiler, will hold their regular business meeting tonight in the new lodge rooms in the Filmer building on East Broadway. This will be the first meeting held in the new quarters and a record attendance is expected.

Several members attended the installation of officers of the Burbank chapter held at the Baptist church in Burbank last night. Those attending from the Glendale chapter included, Vern Wilson, Mr. Taylor, William Rich, Edwin Murphy and Charles E. Rich. Other Glendadians present were Mrs. Murphy, Miss Lucille Anderson and Miss Marie Oliver.

POINCARÉ IS ADMITTED ABSOLUTE WINNER

Settlement Goes Ahead as Krupp Director Predicts Workers' Uprising

ESSEN, Germany, Oct. 8.—"A volcanic explosion of pent-up passions by the Ruhr workers seems inevitable," an important Krupp director told International News Service today. He is one of the few directing heads still in Essen, and refused to say whether his name was revealed. I do not believe Premier Poincaré has the right and the intention of putting the wheels of Ruhr industry back in motion," said the director.

By S. D. WEYER

For International News Service
BERLIN, Oct. 8.—"Premier Poincaré of France is the absolute victor," declared Deputy Breitscheid, a socialist, when debate opened this afternoon upon the "authorization" law, conferring dictatorial powers upon the government.

Previously the Reichsrath, by a vote of 46 to 17, had approved the law.

Oppose Longer Hours
The miners' central union adopted a resolution, sharply opposing extension of working hours and the Berlin plan to pay, according to prediction.

Word was received from the Ruhr that some mines were resuming, but that the German government will cease sending money into the Ruhr this week. These payments have been for distribution among the German workers whether they worked or not, and was the backbone of the government's policy of passive resistance.

Ruhr Settlement Reported Progressing

By FRANK E. MASON

For International News Service
PARIS, Oct. 8.—Negotiations between General de Goutte, commander-in-chief of the French army of occupation in the Ruhr, and German industrial and financial representatives are continuing favorably, it was officially announced by the foreign office today. They refer to conditions under which German workers will return to their posts and the manner in which reparations payments in kind shall be made by Ruhr industries and mines.

Foreign office officials said General de Goutte is not authorized to take any definite decisions. Responsibilities for such decisions rest upon the French and Belgian governments. General de Goutte informed the Germans that the question of delivery of reparations in kind will be turned over to the inter-allied reparations commission for settlement.

Jewish Sisterhood Start Season's Work

The Glendale Jewish Sisterhood opened another season of activity October 5, when the members met at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Goodman Philip, 324 West Colorado street, to discuss plans for the work of the organization and to appoint a committee to carry on the work of the Jewish Sunday school.

Dr. Schreiber of Los Angeles, who was present, expressed his belief in the future of the religious school, which is now in its pioneer days. Mrs. E. W. Kinney, who is in charge of the school, assisted by Miss Clara Parker and Miss Dorothy Zitzien, are preparing for a record attendance this season. The school is held in the Odd Fellows Hall, 201 West Broadway every Sunday morning.

The Sisterhood will meet in future on the first Friday of each month, instead of on the first Tuesday, as in the past, and for the November meeting Mrs. W. J. Karner, the hostess, will present an attractive program at Jensen's Egyptian Village.

Eagle Rock Player Senior Tennis Victor

J. D. Baker, of 2417 West Lawrence avenue, Eagle Rock, is the winner of the Community Service senior tennis tournament, following his play-off with L. E. Fuller in the finals, Saturday afternoon on the Glendale Union High school courts.

Baker won in two straight sets, 6-4, 6-4. Bob Laird was referee and Mary Barbara Taylor and Jack Thayer were line judges.

Mrs. C. H. Crawford will also be present and present plans for the inauguration of a parents' reading circle.

Bible Students
All Tuesday afternoon club women and other Glendale women interested in Bible study are asked to meet in the tea room of the clubhouse at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon for organization. Mrs. Charles H. Temple is curator of the section.
The meeting Friday is a special gathering simply for organization. The section will meet regularly at 10:30 o'clock the first and third Tuesday mornings.

Music Section
Mrs. Warren Roberts, curator of the Music Section of the Tuesday Afternoon club, has invited all club members to attend the program to be given Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the auditorium of the clubhouse by Margaret Messer Morris, vocalist, and Sol Cohen, violinist.
Following the program all the section members will meet in the front of the auditorium for a business hour and later a social time will be enjoyed with Mrs. Edwin Cleophas as hostess.

Meet On Tuesday
Members of Mary Jane Gillette Tent No. 18, Daughters of Veterans, will hold their regular meeting tomorrow night, Tuesday, October 9, at the American Legion hall, 610 East Broadway, at 8 o'clock. All members are urged to make a special effort to be present.
Plans will be discussed for the winter's work and details completed relative to the bazaar to be held the last week in November.

Shower Honoree
Mrs. Evelyn M. S. Labadie of 730 South Glendale avenue, was hostess Saturday to a number of friends at a luncheon and social afternoon, complimenting Mrs. Verma Pickett.
The decorations were artistically carried out with yellow chrysanthemums and daisies.
The luncheon table appointments were also carried out in the same taste. Covers were laid for eight guests.
During the afternoon, the guests presented devoted the time to sewing and a social time.

Hostess to Class
Members of the Lydia Bible class of the Glendale Presbyterian church, are to meet Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. David Johnson at the corner of Ocean View and Mira Vista, Montrose. Mr. Ball, the class president, who has just returned from the East, will preside. All members are asked to bring a card to be sent to Mrs. George Martin.

Postpone Meeting
The meeting of the Girls' Friendly society of St. Mark's Episcopal church which was announced for tomorrow night, Tuesday, October 9, has been postponed a week, Mrs. Philip K. Kemp announces.
The next regular meeting will be held at the church in the Guild hall, on October 16, at 6:30 o'clock.

P-T. A. Federation
Mrs. E. B. Moore, president of the Parent-Teachers association federation, has issued a call for a meeting Wednesday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce hall on South Brand boulevard. This will be the second meeting of the year and Mrs. Moore is urging all members to be in attendance.

Birthday Dinner
To celebrate the birthday anniversary of their daughter, Mrs. O. T. Van Etten, Mr. and Mrs. David Black of Kenneth road, were hosts at a dinner Saturday night, their guests being Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Van Etten and Frances, Billy Peter and John Van Etten of Pasadena and Miss Esther Black.

ters of 525 North Adams street, entertained as dinner guests Saturday night at the Sunset Canyon Country club Dr. and Mrs. H. B. Smith of Glendale. Sunday dinner guests at the Schmitts home were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stein of Los Angeles. Mrs. Schmitts is planning on going to Pomona, Wednesday, to the big celebration of the Odd Fellows' lodge.

Dr. H. R. Boyer has returned to his office at 104 South Brand boulevard and resumed his practice after an absence of three weeks, necessitated by illness.

Pupils' Recital
Mrs. Leila M. Buckham entertained a number of friends at a pupils' recital on Saturday afternoon at her home studio, 332 West Lexington drive.
The first part of the program consisted of piano solos and duets by the students, many of which were the compositions of Beethoven. Drills in sight reading and note writing were included in the second part of the program, at the conclusion of which Mrs. Buckham gave an interesting review of the life of Beethoven which she illustrated with pictures.
Later in the afternoon refreshments were served and an informal social afternoon enjoyed.

LA CRESCENTA P-T. A. RECEPTION PROVES SUCCESS
Artistic Decorations Lend Atmosphere of Beauty to School House
The reception and program given by the members of the Parent-Teachers' association on Saturday afternoon, one was charmed by the fairyland appearance of it. Lights had been strung across the court, the strings heavily hung with the feathery branches of the poplar tree, while Japanese lanterns were a finishing touch. Baskets of flowers, cosmos, zinnias, asters and marigolds were placed in the corridors, and smaller baskets adorned the small tables.
In the auditorium striking Japanese banners and panels were hung on the walls, a huge basket of asters from the Verdugo gardens, decorated the piano top, while grape vines aglow with autumnal tints banked the footlights.

President Speaks
The program was preceded by a short and interesting talk by Mrs. Angier, president of the Parent-Teachers' association, who told of the 200 members the Parent-Teachers' association has secured already this year, and thanked her committees for their earnest work in decorating, arranging the program and refreshments.
To Mrs. Van Duesen thanks are due for securing the loan of the beautiful Chinese banners and panels, which are the personal property of F. Lui One, Chinese importer and merchant of Los Angeles. Mrs. Potts, of the refreshment committee, wanted special thanks to be given Mrs. S. Hawley, of Montrose, who supplied the ice cream. Mr. Hawley not only donated his services in serving the ice cream, but added a delicious buttercream syrup served over the ice cream. Mr. Hawley has a concession in Rheinhard's building in Montrose. Mrs. Craig and her committee worked all day Saturday decorating the new store. In addition to pleasure and surprise are indications of appreciation, truly their work was appreciated.

Mrs. Swain headed the entertainment and reception committee, the latter making the newcomers feel quite at home amongst the older residents.
Musical Program
The program opened with a violin solo by Mrs. Rose Allen, "Alpine Maid's Sunday," by Ole Bush. Mrs. Allen played "Berceuse," Godard, as an encore.
This is the first time Mrs. Allen has given a local audience, but her brilliant performance will assure her a hearty welcome, whenever she may play for La Crescentans again. Miss Margaret, well-known pianist, accompanied Mrs. Allen.
Mildred Biescor played "Tarentelle," followed by "Sonatina." Both were rendered in a dashing manner typical of this little lady. Constance Angier played Hungarian Dance, an Elfin Dance in an assured manner. Both Mildred Biescor and Constance Angier are pupils of Margaret Hunbirt. Little Miss Betty Angier, aged 6, read "Sally-Polly Clothes-pin Doll" and was quite a hit with her baby lisp.
Catherine Rheinhard read "Aunt Going to Cry No More" in a realistic manner. Two readings by this young lady, accompanied by Constance Angier on the piano, were heartily applauded: "In the Usual Way" and "I Don't Know."

The hit of the evening's performance was a pantomime "And the Lamp Went Out" given by the pupils of the Dramatic Art class, which was conducted this summer by Miss Ethelene Smith. The story was of a romantic young miss, who was very fond of paper backed novels, and was carried away by the remarkable descriptions of the actions of the characters therein.
The cast was as follows:
The heroine, Evelyn Vere de Vere, Jean Angier.
Her mother, Mrs. Vere de Vere, Virginia Haskins.
The hero, Helen Haskins.
The Villain, Violet Findlay; The Lamp, Betty Angier; The Roman-

OXY TEAM BEATS STATE TEACHERS
Tigers Show Snappy Football in San Diego Battle Winning 33 to 7
By LARRY RAYMOND
Of The Evening News Staff
Coach "Timberwolf" Pipal's speedy Tiger eleven swept the San Diego State Teachers' college team off their feet to the mournful tune of 33 to 7, Saturday afternoon on the southern gridiron. Never for a minute was the Oxy team threatened with defeat. They took the field against the State College eleven, which was minus the help of several of its crack players, out because of injuries and flu, and outclassed the Teachers in all branches of the game. They outpunted, outplayed, had a better aerial attack, made much more yardage, proved faster, ran better interference, and worked more smoothly than the State College eleven.
The Oxy "Stonewall Jackson" defense proved deadly for their opponents who were unable to gain through the Tiger line. At the end of the first half Occidental led the field, 20-to-0.
Ebers kicked off in the third quarter and Hancock, receiving the oval on the boulevard line, ran the ball back through the entire Tiger line and galloped down the field to the Oxy 6 yard notch, to be halted by Halfback Westgate after a wild ninety-yard chase. Hancock fumbled, and Francis, who had been running interference, reached for the ball and leaped over the goal line for the Teachers' College only touchdown, Hancock converted.
Cliff Argue accounted for two touchdowns from completed forward passes. Captain Spangler scored another, and Ridderhoff and Ebers each carried the ball over for touchdowns. Ebers converted three out of five tries for goals.

WATCH FOR THE ECLIPSE

Glendale Graduate Is Fraternity Member
Steven J. Fairchild, a graduate of the Glendale Union high school and son of J. W. Fairchild, Rural Route No. 2, Box 617, Pasadena, California, has just been elected to membership in the fraternity of Alpha Zeta, the national honor fraternity of agriculture.
This word has just been received from the College of Agriculture of the University of California.
Alpha Zeta elects men to membership on the basis of scholarship, leadership and personality. No man can be elected to membership unless he stands in the upper two-fifths of his class.
California is fortunate in having as one of its members the grand president of the fraternity, C. B. Hutchinson, director of the University Farm at Davis.

Welcome New Members at Baptist Communion
The monthly communion service, including the reception of new members, was observed yesterday morning at the First Baptist church.
Rev. E. E. Ford's sermon text was: "The Love of Christ constraineth Me."
"Love is the greatest attractive force in the world," he remarked. "Newton discovered the law of attraction in the falling of the apple. Adam lost the fellowship with God through disobedience; Christ restored the union between God and man by his death on the cross. He opened the way home and said to the world, 'Come.'"
The evening service was in charge of the laymen of the church. A male chorus of twenty-five voices and the Tri-Mu Male Quartette sang.

Teachers Attending 'School' Here Today

pared to show that the youth of the present age do very decidedly better work even in the fundamental three R's than did the children of fifty years ago. This was recently shown by some very accurate tests in the city of Berkeley. Some examination questions given in Springfield, Mass., half a century ago were used with the Berkeley pupils. The California children did better than the New England children in everything except parsing.

Tells of New Conditions
"Who are asserting that children are being kept in school too long? There are just two classes of people: Employers, who want to employ cheap boy labor; and parents, who want to live off the earnings of their children. The change in social life makes it necessary for school life to be prolonged. A generation ago a boy worked alongside of his father at his father's occupation, and a girl worked alongside her mother, helping to prepare the food and clothing for the family. Today this relationship is no longer possible. The only occupations open to the youth of 15 or 16 are the blind-alley occupations.

"The proportion of national income expended for education is no greater now than it was in 1913. The per capita earning of the people in the various states of the union almost exactly coincides with the rating of state school systems. This shows that the states that have the best school systems have the highest per capita earning capacity."

Mr. Cox added that the most important phase of the school system is not its cost of operation, but its efficiency in training youth for citizenship.

Buckeye Glendalians Urged to Form Club

"Buckeye" Glendalians are being rallied together by C. M. Wilder of 1807 Don Carlos avenue, Verdugo Woodlands, who is so enthusiastic over living in the "fastest growing city in America" that he thinks that all former Ohioans ought to get together and form an Ohio club here.

Mr. Wilder, who is from Fremont in Sandusky county of the "Buckeye" state, and in addition to suggesting such an organization of Ohioans, he is willing to act as temporary secretary. He wants all former Ohio people to communicate with him at R. F. D. Route 1, Box 333, Glendale. When he has secured a list of "Buckeyes" a meeting place will be announced for organization.

CATCHY NUMBERS ENLIVEN PAGEANT

'Night in Dreamland' Cast Is Rehearsing Steadily for Two Shows

"In Glendale's Rose Garden" is to be the classic number presented in "A Night in Dreamland," Wednesday and Thursday night at the Tuesday Afternoon club house. According to Jay Wellington, director, rehearsals are progressing most satisfactorily and Glendalians are responding heartily by buying tickets.

The "American Beauty" scene in the pageant is one of color and brilliance and Miss Flora Phyllis Kilpatrick, soprano, through the courtesy of Madame Prindell, is to take the lead in the song number "Rosebud." She will be supported by Miss Dora Wolter as a throne girl, and by the following models, who appear "In Glendale's Rose Garden": Misses Marie Powers, Muriel Gambrill, Thelma Johnson, Gladys Regan, Carmen Ritten, Helen Richards, Theima Ungeheuer, Katherine Knaus, Louise Ayala, Laura Clark, and Mesdames A. J. Plunkett, J. O. Collins and Sullivan.

Miss Gertrude Wade is to be hostess of "Dreamland," receiving 100 guests in the garden party scene and introducing the entertainers of the scene, including groups of Hawaiian dancers, dancing dolls, Mexican dancers, Chinese dancers, soloists and vaudeville specialties.

Mrs. Florence E. Parker is soloist in one of the principal numbers in the garden party with a chorus of forty-five voices. She will sing, "In the Garden of My Heart."

Students' Dancing Matinees Planned

The first of ten dancing matinees arranged by Mrs. Nanno Woods for freshmen and sophomores who have no early morning classes is to be held at her home, 122 West Milford street, starting 9:30 o'clock Thursday morning, October 11.

The dancing matinee idea is a distinct novelty. Mrs. Woods states, originated to afford social life for students of the Glendale Union High school who otherwise would have no such opportunity for relaxation, owing to their afternoon classes continuing so late. The dances will be held each Monday and Thursday morning at the same hour, at Mrs. Woods' home.

Cranberries raised in Oregon this year will fill 23,000 boxes.

Legion's Basketball Will Be Reorganized

First practice of the reorganized American Legion basketball team is called for tonight at 7:30 o'clock, in the Glendale Union high school gymnasium, reports A. G. Wheelon, last year's captain.

The following men are expected to turn out: Charlie Watt, E. P. Hayward, Larry Vaughn, Verne Nyman, Sid Simons, Ralph Goodman, Jack Leggett, Nelson Dick, Woodruff Bunker, C. M. Salano, Andy Kearns, Benue Khittie, Chalmer D. Day, in addition to Mr. Wheelon.

A captain and manager will be elected.

A. L. Baird to Make Insurance Specialty

A. L. Baird, for several years real estate manager for the Roy L. Kent company, 130 South Brand boulevard, has removed his offices to 213 East Broadway (where he will be associated with Max Green and J. P. Lilly in the Valley Mortgage and Investment company, of which he is president. He will specialize in insurance. Roy L. Kent announces that he is expanding his real estate department at 130 South Brand boulevard.

N. L. Duncan Becomes R. S. Henry's Partner

N. L. Duncan has succeeded Glenn G. Bartlett in the real estate firm of Bartlett & Henry, 415 East Broadway, announces Robert S. Henry of that firm. Mr. Duncan's residence is at 703 East Harvard street. He reports business good. Mr. Bartlett will engage in the building business, he states.

POSTPONE BANQUET

The annual banquet of the Better America Federation, planned for next Friday, has been postponed to Monday, October 15, it is announced by R. L. McCourt, 336 North Central avenue, Glendale, second vice president. The change in date has been necessitated by the detention of Miss Hermine Schwed who will speak at the banquet in New York.

TWO STATES PICNIC

Former residents of Rhode Island and Connecticut will hold an annual picnic reunion in Sycamore Grove Park, Los Angeles, next Saturday. An elaborate entertainment program has been planned. All natives of the two New England states are invited.

National Home Beautiful Week

OCTOBER

FOURTEENTH

A great wave of enthusiasm sweeps over the representative retail furniture dealers of Glendale as they prepare to greet you as their guests during this, the great national furniture styles show week

—The resources and possibilities for creating beautiful, distinctive, comfortable homes were never so great as they are today.

—To the heritage bequeathed us by master designers of centuries past has been added the finest craftsmanship of all times.

—This is responsible for the fact that what a decade ago was available only to those of great wealth may now be enjoyed by all.

—Yet, with this wonderful progress in home furnishing and beautifying, many other attractions have sprung into existence that beguile us from the very spot that is of most importance to us—HOME.

—There is no influence in all the world that equals the magnificent influence of Home for the development of sturdy character, the creation of lasting happiness and the promise of success in life.

—This influence is given an opportunity to function only when the home is made attractive. Things of comfort and beauty will hold the family together in stronger unity, and react joyously on the minds of all.

—And it is no small wonder that the pride stimulated by a beautiful home inspires many happy gatherings of friends.

—Home is the institution to which the progressive furniture dealer is minister. His is the responsibility of providing commodities and service to his community economically and conveniently; of keeping himself informed so as to give authoritative advice on any question appertaining to home furnishing; of guarding against false values that his customers' interests might be best conserved and of so fostering beauty and comfort that every home may become a realization of the happy dreams in which it was first conceived.

—The great revival in recent years of period styles, and their adaptation on an immense scale to the means of every one, places in the furniture exhibits of today the most extensive variety of types, designs and finishes ever produced in history.

—Exquisite pieces for the drawing room, suites the world, is represented in the vast assemblage of beautiful home appointments which you will have an opportunity to view, while the ingenuity of America is pronounced by the wonderful way these things are adapted to our comfort and our needs.

—Exquisite pieces for the drawing room, suites for living room, dining room and bedroom, sun porch, sewing room and nursery furnishings; floor coverings and window hangings for every room; a myriad objets d'art and bric-a-brac for ornamentation and thousands of accessories, such as clocks, phonographs, radio cabinets, book cases, etc., are shown in fascinating array.

—Especial attention is devoted to kitchens, showing latest improvements and inventions designed for making woman's work lighter, more pleasant and efficient. Gas, coal, oil and electric ranges, numerous types of refrigerators and kitchen cabinets, and countless other culinary devices are available for your inspection.

—You could not go anywhere in the world and find a furniture styles show more replete, more practical, more attractive than this one. It is another evidence of the fine spirit of co-operation on the part of furniture stores here that is making Glendale the most wonderful city of beautiful, happy homes in the world.

—Come, with your whole family, and enjoy the feast for your eyes that the Glendale furniture stores have prepared for you this week. It will be an education—an inspiration for every one.

—The firms whose names you see listed below have entered their stores, shops and furniture departments as exhibits in this immense show.

—Obviously, the display windows are not alone adequate for showing all of the fine things that you would be interested in seeing. To receive the full benefit of this event, you should go into the stores of the exhibitors. This is their big open house week, and they will not only welcome you, but expect you to call for the inspiration and knowledge to be gained from their displays. You will not be importuned to buy.

—There is no phase of home furnishing that this show will not include. It will appeal alike to those who live in modest bungalows and those who have palatial villas.

'BUY A GLENDALE BARGAIN'

ON SAN FERNANDO ROAD
A corner just 600 feet from Brand boulevard and the car line to Los Angeles, with 131 feet frontage on that busy boulevard, where thousands pass daily; with a side frontage on street leading to the new Southern Pacific depot, spend some time checking values around this section and then take this bargain at $200 per foot, or $26,200, on terms; it's bedrock and a profit is there for some one at the expense of our client, who must have money to care for other property.

Former Champion

Jim Jeffries to Referee Bouts

James J. Jeffries, former world's heavyweight champion has promised to referee the main event of the boxing card October 16, at Hahn's auditorium, 109 North Brand boulevard, states Les Marston, matchmaker.
Eddy Byrd and Andy Mc-Laughlin, heavyweights, are scheduled for this event.
Byrd is of Glendale and is well known, enjoying the reputation of a fast fighter.
McLaughlin comes down from Burbank for the occasion, planning to make Eddy look to his laurels.
Other events are: Jimmie Berry of Pasadena vs. Battling Ward of Lankershim, at 130 pounds; Kid Williams, of Lankershim vs. Pete Essick of Glendale, at 120 pounds;
Jim Racer vs. K. O. Chano, at 128 pounds; Young Salos vs. Lou Garcia at 115 pounds and Jack Carr vs. Kid Payo, at 108 pounds.

YANKS SUPERIOR AS INDIVIDUALS
American League Stars Shine Brightest But
Giants Dangerous
NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Taken as so many individuals, the New York Yanks stand superior to the Giants, by the writer's casual reckoning, in six positions out of a possible nine. As a gambler's choice in the impending world's series, the Yanks are worth no more than even money and not too much of that. Psychology, the breaks and the ability of the Giants to step out to meet any big moment with their ears pinned back, so to speak, all but negatives the man-to-man angle of the situation.
It has done just that for two successive world's series. In both the Giants began activities under the great impost of allegedly inferior pitching; the results disproved rather than sustained this theory. It merely happened that nine men, playing as one but thinking their individual thoughts, were and are—a better combination than nine men playing as nine and thinking by rote, if at all.
Yet the man-to-man proposition has some value in the pre-series calculations, and, as such, it may be duly recorded that the Yanks have an edge in this particular.
Everything depends on how much or how little they take advantage of these individual superiorities.

Heinie Groh Starred Joe Dugan, for example, was rated far above Heinie Groh as a third baseman before the 1922 games. But Groh fielded and hit seasonally, while Dugan merely played average baseball—hence, suffered by comparison.

It was the same in pitching.
The Giants were supposed to have a spavined staff, yet Neff, J.
Barnes, Scott and McQuillan stepped out and outpitched the Yanks in every game.

Perhaps they will do so again.
Barnes is among the departed, but McGraw's staff is better for the addition of Watson and Jack Bentley, and a well-pitched game by either might throw all calculations overboard. However, as they stand, Jones, Buch, Hoyt, Pennock, Shawkey and Mays are a stronger combination of pitchers—on paper—than anything McGraw can summon. That is one pre-series advantage the Yankees hold.

Another is that of Dugan over Groh, who has become a bit eldery and possibly will not repeat his 1922 exhibition. A third is that of Pipp over Kelly at first base, although some may be pleased to dissent on this point.

Wally is not quite as dangerous a hitter as his Giant rival. He is more consistent and dependable, however, and will cover more ground around the bag.

Around second base the Giants come to the front with the Frisch-Bancroft combination, which is considerably superior to that of Ward and Scott. Frisch is a better all-around ball player than Ward can ever hope to be, although the latter has developed into one of the best second-basemen in baseball during the present season. He is not in Frisch's class as a hitter, base runner and quick thinker, however.

Bancroft, likewise, is a better shortstop and ball player than Scott, who has slowed down to a saunter. In fact, the Beauty is one of the really great shortstops of the modern generation.

In left field the new Ruth is so far ahead of Emil Meusel as to obviate any comparison. He can outfield, out throw and out hit his seven days out of seven. Yet, it may so happen that Meusel will be the champ of the series and Ruth the chump.

Witt is a better all around man in center field than either Stengel or Cunningham, being able to range far and wide for balls hit into his territory. He is also the best lead-off man in baseball and the fastest streaking down to first base.

MIKE GODETT GOT IT
Mike Godett was elected captain of the 1923 Freshman football eleven at Occidental college.
Godett is one of the best gridiron men on the fresh team. He played and won his letter four years on the Franklin high football team, and was captain of that team during his last year. To put it strong, he knows his onions. Mike is one of the famous players of ends that brought the city championship to Franklin last season, and he was picked for the all-city eleven.

SOCCER GAMES START
The A-S class soccer schedule at Wilson avenue school will open Tuesday at 12:35 with a doubleheader. Solomon Klein has been elected captain of the B-S-1 class soccer team. The games will be under the supervision of Charles Merrill.

HUGGINS HOLDS JOB
NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Miller
Huggins, manager of the Yankees, will pilot the team again next year and "as long after that as he cares to stay." Colonel Jacob Ruppert, owner, announced today.
Huggins has won three pennants
in a row for the Yankees.

TUJUNGA

CAROLINE JAMES
WEDS JAMES ROE

Couple Leaves for Honey-moon Trip in North; Other Social Events

Miss Caroline Edith James of Tujunga and James Mitchell Roe of Linda Vista were married Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Anna James, mother of the bride, at 126 South Cedar street, Tujunga.

Rev. H. Irwin Farr read the ceremony. Immediately after the bride and groom departed for a honeymoon trip by automobile to Northern California. On their return south they will make their home at Linda Vista, where Mr. Roe is engaged in business.

Mrs. Roe is a niece of John Steven McGroarty and came to Tujunga but a few months ago with her mother. Since the Southern California Edison Co. opened a branch office she has been assistant to the manager until two weeks ago.

Reception for Teachers

A reception was given the new members of the teaching staff of the grammar school by the Parent-Teacher association at the schoolhouse.

Mrs. H. B. Lynch, vice-president, was hostess in the absence of the president, Mrs. Correll, who has resigned.

The attendance was extra large. A program was arranged for the entertainment of the guests, including vocal solos and readings by Miss Minnie L. Dunn, Mrs. J. F. Sweet, Mrs. E. W. Schoch, Miss Crews.

Refreshments were served by the ladies of the Parent-Teacher association.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark H. Bloodgood have returned from their honeymoon trip and will make their home on Tinker street near the home of Mr. Bloodgood's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Brandstetter have bought property at First and Los Angeles streets, in the Lancaster tract, and are completing a home there. They, too, have just recently returned from their honeymoon.

Saturday evening a party of Christian Endeavor members motored to Venice for an evening in the amusement concessions.

Miss Bates, recently arrived in Tujunga from the middle west, will assist Dr. J. U. Stotts of the Tujunga Community church in pastoral work.

Entertain Glendale Artists

Members of the Glendale Art association were recently entertained by the Fine Arts Guild of Tujunga. Nearly 200 guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Sweet and members of the Guild, thirty being guests of honor as members of the Glendale club.

Other guests were from Pasadena, Alhambra, Los Angeles and other nearby cities.

A program of music, dancing and readings was arranged for the entertainment of the guests, followed by refreshments.

Dr. Keeler had promised a surprise for the evening and introduced Mrs. Talbot, who gave some readings of James Whitcomb Riley's works that were enthusiastically received.

Mrs. Talbot traveled for several years with Riley as reader on his tours.

The Manzanita orchestra played during the evening and the following numbers were formed: complete program: Piano solo, Mrs. A. Adams; tenor solo, Mr. Wardell; baritone solo, J. L. Smith, also known as "Radio" Smith for his popular number, "My Radio Girl"; solo, Mrs. Laura Sweet; solo, Mrs. Price; solo, Mrs. Helen White; Alhambra, interpretive dancing by Frances Morgan and pupils, Bonita Clark and little Miss Hirsch.

Dr. Keeler gave a short talk. The personnel of the Manzanita orchestra is as follows: Piano, Mrs. Leo Smith; violins, Mrs. Wier and Mrs. A. Adams; cornets, Mr. Adams and Mr. Johnson, and Loren Scoville, flute.

Social and Personal

Guy W. Phillips, young business man of Tujunga, is reported engaged to a Los Angeles girl, Miss Bernice Hayes.

Mr. and Mrs. Justice of Wildwood Lodge in Tujunga canyon have left for a two weeks' visit in San Francisco.

H. W. Zachau, for the past year employed as collector for the Haines Canyon Water company, has resigned to join the sales force of J. M. Goode in the real estate business. Mr. Zachau is one of the Tujunga pioneers, having lived there for fourteen years. He has been engaged in various occupations. Several years ago he welcomed the ranks of the vanguard of Little Landers and helped clear their property. The home place of Elizabeth Benedict on East El Centro was cleared and prepared for planting by Mr. Zachau over ten years ago.

W. B. Pond and Ed O'Shaunessy are in San Diego on business. They expect to be away for six weeks.

Miss Mamie Clark returned Friday from a visit with relatives in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Theron C. Chapman of Los Angeles visited friends in Tujunga Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Moore of Redondo Beach and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Gerow of Inglewood spent Sunday with relatives in Tujunga.

OCCUPIES L. A. PULPIT

Rev. Henry O. Kringle, pastor of the Concordia Lutheran church yesterday occupied the pulpit at the Christ Lutheran church in Los Angeles. Rev. E. Washholz of Los Angeles preached at the local church.

EAGLE ROCK

CITY'S NEW ZONE
LAWS EFFECTIVE

Property Owners Know Exact Status of Holdings; Building to Boom

The new zoning laws for Eagle Rock became effective today, the ordinance having been posted the prescribed ten days from its passage, September 26.

Maps showing the boundaries as they now stand will soon be posted in this community, reports Donald G. Montgomery, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce.

This clarifies a situation that has caused a great deal of misunderstanding and considerable delay and expense in building operations, property owners now knowing the exact status of their holdings.

Busses Start Monday

Operation of the York boulevard school busses will start Monday, October 8, by the Los Angeles Railway company, states J. G. Jeffrey, director of public relations of that organization, pointing out that a new bus, seating twenty-five passengers, will be used.

This bus will run on York boulevard from Avenue 54 to Glassell road, providing transportation for school pupils between the terminal of the York boulevard branch of the Garvanza car line and the Eagle Rock line on Glassell road, the distance covered being just one mile.

The bus will operate on the five school days, making three round trips in the morning and three in the afternoon. A straight five cent fare will be charged. The bus will operate independent of the street cars and will not do any transfer business.

Following is the schedule: The bus will leave Avenue 54 at 7:55 a. m., 8:05 a. m. and 8:30 a. m. and will leave Glassell road at 8:00 a. m., 8:25 a. m. and 8:43 a. m. In the afternoon the bus will leave Avenue 54 at 2:45 p. m., 3:05 p. m. and 3:30 p. m. It will leave Glassell road at 2:55, 3:15 and 3:35.

Monday Ends Census

Every child in Eagle Rock between the ages of 3 and 18 years who has not already filled in and handed to the teacher a census card must do so on Monday, October 8, states C. W. Preston, principal of the Eagle Rock school.

"Formerly one card could be filled out for the entire family," he explains, "but by the new California law each individual within the age limit must fill out a separate card."

"The chief purpose of the enrollment is to plan for necessary future enlargement of the state educational system. There is nothing autocratic about it. It gives us the surest possible check on the situation."

"The state registration is apart from other registrations where pupils have been obliged to fill in cards. It has no connection with the 'history' cards or the 'office record' cards we asked them to fill out. We request that parents co-operate to the end that all cards are properly filled out Monday."

Local Notes

Mrs. Cora Conklin, 2420 Ridgeway avenue, director of industrial sales for Near East relief, who spent most of last month at the St. Catherine hotel, Catalina Island, and is now in attendance at the Ventura county fair in the interest of this work, is planning with Mrs. W. D. Fiske, 203 North Castle avenue, who is local chairman, to give Eagle Rock women an opportunity to help in the work.

Mrs. Sol Gans and daughter of 103 South Central avenue has returned from an extensive eastern trip that included visits in New York with relatives of Mr. Gans. Mervin Gouldthorpe of Ridgeway avenue has returned from San Diego, where he took the principal part in the pageant, "Fete of the Sun," which was shown during the eclipse. At present he is with the Seidel Stock company, playing in Whitier, Santa Ana and Anaheim.

Mrs. Lester Hutchins of 5162 Paloma avenue entertained at luncheon on Tuesday Mrs. Fred Wright, Mrs. Joseph Martin, Mrs. Ben Woodford, Mrs. Frank Gantier and Mrs. Lewis Foley, all girlhood friends from Wichita, Kan. She also entertained Mrs. Elfred Cole of Hollywood.

Miss Mary Stewart, of 5143 Rowland avenue celebrated her 15th birthday recently with a party to several of her girl friends.

The Junior Music club held its first meeting of the fall Saturday afternoon, October 6, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, at the Women's Twentieth Century clubhouse. It was brought out that all girls in the community who are between the ages of 13 and 18 are asked to join, providing they are interested in music and the work.

COMMENT
That's All

Reactors to Convention
Humorous Incidents
Searching for Insects
Four Pointed Paragraphs
By Gil A. Cowan

Glendale realtors tomorrow join with other boards of the San Fernando valley and the southland in general in a trek to Sacramento, where they will participate in the annual convention of the California Real Estate association.

Under the managerial guidance of Glenn D. Willaman, the association, which has had Red Reed, C. C. Tatum and Frazier O. Reed at its head the last three years, has made great strides. It has established efficient headquarters in Los Angeles, and rendered a great service to the profession and public alike.

The writer cannot compliment the California Real Estate association too highly on its legislative program, as well as its educational campaign, which has brought good repute to the great business in Glendale—that of selling real estate.

If you have a sense of humor—and who hasn't—you would have enjoyed riding from Los Angeles to Glendale on the 11-o'clock car Saturday night. At least you would if you had been in the writer's place.

There was a passenger across the aisle who was well in his cups. He first borrowed a light. Nudging me again on the arm, he said:

"Shay, do you remember what the Shunday school lessun is for tomorrow? I forgot."

At the Edendale line terminus our train was stopped while two conductors on the downtown service "fought it out" as to which was "the leader" in clearing the switch.

Our tipsy friend suggested they were the soviet in control of the railroad, after looking out of the window and nearly sitting in the lap of a lady customer of the Pacific Electric.

"Bet you a dollar to a nickel that you're the first out," said one of the carmen. "Bet you I know my onions, even if you don't know beans."

This vaudeville dialogue made quite a hit with the sleepy passengers, who accepted the delay in good humor, commenting on the fact that this still was the wild and woolly West.

Finally the Glendale line motor-man settled their hash and traffic moved on.

Arriving at Broadway and Brand boulevard, the well-lighted individual provided more comedy by asking, "What town is this?"

When informed it was Glendale, he wanted to know whether the car was going up or down. At that time the occupants of the car were "going up" in a gale of laughter.

Arriving at our destination, we recognized a friend, also coming in the car.

"Great trip," we commented. "Yes," he replied, "I was down on the desert."

"How's that?" we asked, thinking that the whole world was woozy.

"I was down at Hesperia today for six hours, looking for insects."

With that we will discontinue the story, but the performance, as a whole, was a great success.

It's great to live in Glendale! And to ride on the Pacific Electric.

Here are a few quips from the newspapers of the state that appeal to us as well worth reproduction:

In Europe, if a bystander in a brawl is innocent enough, they let him keep on being a king.—San Bernardino Sun.

Modern writers seek to eliminate "sham," "hypocrisy," "insincerity" and all the rest. And their pose is all the while the veriest sham itself.—Porterville Messenger.

A minister can always depend on at least two receptions from any community in which he lives—when he moves in and when he moves out.—Red Bluff News.

The peach and fig and the raisin associations are spending much money throughout the country in an effort to popularize their products, but they are woefully neglecting the home field. Californians should eat these products without being reminded, but, unfortunately, that is not true, and we need demonstrations as much as in the East.—Merced Star.

Hold First Session for Mission School

The First Congregational church last night held the opening session of its School of Missions.

Rev. Clifford N. Hand, director of religious interests at Pomona college, acted as leader in the first in an effort to popularize their products, but they are woefully neglecting the home field. Californians should eat these products without being reminded, but, unfortunately, that is not true, and we need demonstrations as much as in the East.—Merced Star.

Sessions, to which everyone is invited, will be held for the next five Sunday evenings. Speakers include Rev. George Simons, director of religious education of the Southern California Congregational conference; Dr. George F. Kenngott, superintendent of the conference, and Rev. Kenneth S. Beam of Claremont, a returned missionary from Japan.

FITZ. INV. CO. MOVES

The Fitz Investment company, which has been located at 103½ South Brand boulevard, is now housed at 402 East Broadway. This really firm takes an active part in the progress of Glendale and is looking forward to a greater success at the new location.

THE GLENDALE

"The Eternal Struggle," a Reginald Barker production featuring Earle Williams, Renee Adoree, Wallace Beery and Barbara Stanwyck, at the Glendale Theatre today.

It is a Metro production, from the G. B. Lancaster novel, "The Law-Bringers," presented by Louis B. Meyer. It is, moreover, an outdoor drama, packed with thrills and strong dramatic action. The locale is Canada.

Among the many thrill sequences shown as an ice jam on the St. Lawrence river, a blizzard near Banff, a dog-team race in the shadows of Mt. Robson, an attack by wolves and a canoe ride through the ice-choked rapids of Seymour creek.

With Banff and Edmonton serving as the two main quarter-master stations, the company worked out of Jasper, Calgary, Lake Louise station and Athabasca landing, completing exteriors of "The Eternal Struggle" at Royal Gorge and North Vancouver.

THE GATEWAY

"Ruggles of Red Gap," Harry Leon Wilson's Saturday Evening Post novel that created a whirlwind of amusement by its true-to-life humor, has been made into a photoplay by James Cruze, who directed "The Covered Wagon," and shows at the Gateway Theatre tonight.

The cast of this delicious comedy-drama includes Edward Horton, Ernest Torrence, Lois Wilson, Fritz Ridgway and Louise Dresser, the latter of Glendale. Here is a picture that is made as only a master director can make a film. Every detail is perfect.

"Ruggles of Red Gap" has been voted the funniest western picture ever made. It is a glorified, de luxe western that is totally different from anything else that has ever been shown. When Harry Leon Wilson undertakes to write a story he writes a "knockout" and when James Cruze has the direction of it in charge, the result is certain to be 100 per cent entertaining.

TROJANS DEFEAT
SAGEHEN ELEVEN

U. S. C. Squad Weakens in Final Periods; Pomona Flash Scores Tally

By "DOC" M'GILLIS
Of The Evening News Staff.

Appearing as a somewhat improved squad over the one which faced Caltek a week previously, Coach Henderson's University of Southern California pigskin hopefuls conquered the fighting Sagehens from Pomona college Saturday afternoon in the opening of the mammoth Los Angeles collision. The final score was 23 to 7, the Trojans scoring 5 points more than they did against "Fox" Stanton's Engineers.

The contest started out in true Henderson early season fashion, with U. S. C. outclassing the opposition in the first half and weakening it considerably in the second string lineup in the final periods. From the first play of the game, in which Gordon Campbell, the Cardinal and Gold backfield ace of the season, ran through Pomona's line for a 30-yard gain, Coach Eugene Nixon's Claremonters appeared helpless before the Trojans' onslaught. The only exception was when the Blue and White line stiffened and held the U. S. C. backs for downs on Pomona's fourteen-yard line in the first quarter. On the offensive the Sagehens were helpless, not a single yard being made from scrimmage during the first half.

New Chapter Begins

The last half was an entirely different story. After Johnny Loustalot had crossed the line in the middle of the third quarter for U. S. C.'s final score of 23 to 7, the Blue and White clad athletes seemed to suddenly realize that their offensive was something more than a myth. Immediately they launched a combination of line bucking and forward passing that completely baffled the Trojan second stringers.

Pomona's only touchdown was the direct result of a clever exhibition of forward passing and a "skull" by Henry Le Fevre, who was "sucked in" from his safety position only to leave an open field between the fleet Worden and the Red and Gold goal posts.

Coach Henderson immediately ejected the aforementioned Mr. Le Fevre, replacing with Otto Anderson. In spite of two bad breaks like this the former Long Beach flash showed that he is a coming star, and it would not be at all surprising to see him in the regular lineup before the close of the 1923 season.

Three Needed Articles

After two intercollegiate contests for the 1923 U. S. C. squad the three things topping "Gloomy Gus's" want-ad list are a consistent punter, a dependable plugging back and a couple of A-1 reserve linemen. Quite a bit to be needing, but it's a safe bet that Henderson could clean up the coast with these three improvements. Whether he gets them is problematical, although a continued improvement is likely.

At present the backfield seems to be giving Henderson the most trouble, trying to decide upon a proper combination. On Saturday's showing one would naturally suggest Captain Dolley at quarter, Adams and Le Fevre, halves, and Campbell, full. A few of Henderson's other backfield candidates are Otto Anderson, Riddle, Wayahn, Loustalot, Newman and Green.

AUTOS IN COLLISION

The left front wheels of an automobile driven by Calvin N. Anderson of La Crescenta about 9 o'clock Saturday night struck a rear fender of an automobile driven by C. D. Wolfe of 625 Vine street. Mr. Anderson was going north on Brand boulevard and Mr. Wolfe was going west on Cypress street.

Fruit Carts Blocking Through Streets, Said

William E. Davis, in commenting on an article in a recent issue of The Glendale Evening News, that motorists were being arrested for running foul of the buttons at Doran street and Columbus avenue, said that this was unavoidable because the fruit peddlers at that place occupy too much of the roadway. He declared that this is also true at Doran street and San Fernando road. He urged that measures should be taken to prevent fruit carts from blocking the highway.

The cast of this delicious comedy-drama includes Edward Horton, Ernest Torrence, Lois Wilson, Fritz Ridgway and Louise Dresser, the latter of Glendale. Here is a picture that is made as only a master director can make a film. Every detail is perfect.

"Ruggles of Red Gap" has been voted the funniest western picture ever made. It is a glorified, de luxe western that is totally different from anything else that has ever been shown. When Harry Leon Wilson undertakes to write a story he writes a "knockout" and when James Cruze has the direction of it in charge, the result is certain to be 100 per cent entertaining.

LOCAL BIRDS WIN PRIZES AT FAIR

William Huber's Pigeons in Display at Ventura Get Highest of Honors

By H. THOMPSON RICH
Of The Evening News Staff
The Ventura County Fair, which closed Saturday, October 6, brought to William Huber of 344 West Park avenue the silver cup for the best racing pigeon exhibited.

In all, Mr. Huber won seven firsts, four seconds and three sweepstakes at the fair. Unable to attend himself, his entries were exhibited by Tom Brown of La Crescenta.

Mr. Huber has lived in Glendale for a year and a half. Previously, for twenty years, he was a resident of Los Angeles. He comes originally from Chicago.

He was for five years a member of the Los Angeles Racing Pigeon club, holding the position of race secretary during most of that time. It is now his ambition to organize a racing pigeon club in Glendale.

Interested with Mr. Huber in organizing the Glendale Racing Pigeon club are Tom Brown of La Crescenta and Tom Retallack of Salem street, Glendale. They want to get in touch with all pig-on fanciers who would be interested in the formation of such a club.

Prize Winners

The firsts won by Mr. Huber at the Ventura County Fair were:
Best young cock, best young hen, best old cock, best old hen, best hen and cock, best racing homer and best pigeon.

The seconds were: Best young cock, young hen, old cock and old hen.

The sweepstakes were: Best racing pigeon in the show, for which he won the silver cup, best hen and cock, and best racing homer.

Mr. Huber won a number of cash prizes as well. His birds are all of the Soffle strain.

He has one old bird that has three times won prizes for 500-mile flights from Reading to Los Angeles, and has one young bird that made this flight in the last Los Angeles race series.

Birds Go Overseas

Mr. Huber supplied the United States army racing homers during the war. Many of his birds went overseas. It is well known that a racing homer saved the famous
"Lost Battalion" in the Argonne, during the heaviest of the fighting. This might well have been one of Mr. Huber's birds. No one knows where it was.

At Ross field, Arcadia, there are many veteran pigeons.
They saw heavy fighting, as is evidenced by the noble scars of battle they wear. Some have one leg shot off, others have but one eye. But they still fly, undaunted.

Mr. Huber's pigeons have won every average speed of the race series in the Los Angeles Racing

Business Expansion Continues, Southland Is More Prosperous

Increasing optimism has pervaded the business community of the Pacific-Southwest during September, as the usual fall increase in business activity has made itself felt. This expansion has been accompanied by the gradual and orderly marketing of most fall crops; evidence that, temporarily at least, the peak of petroleum production in the present fields has been reached; added evidence that the more serious problems of adjustment are being satisfactorily solved without materially interfering with the general forward movement of this territory; and growing confidence that general prosperity will continue throughout the winter months.

This is the optimistic introductory paragraph of the Monthly Summary of Conditions in the Pacific-Southwest, compiled by the Research Department of the First National bank of Los Angeles, Pacific-Southwest Trust & Savings bank and First Securities company, and released for publication today.

However, there are still sufficient elements of uncertainty to justify the opinion that continued caution should be exercised in the placing of advance commitments until those items which are causing uncertainty have come closer to a permanent solution, the summary continues.

No small part of the present feeling has been caused by the improvement in agricultural marketing conditions which has been sufficient to indicate that by the close of the crop-moving season there will have been a general reduction in the outstanding obligations of agricultural communities, although this progress will not have been sufficient to entirely liquidate those obligations which have accumulated during the past several years in a number of important agricultural centers.

Car Shortage Small

There is some evidence of car shortage, which may interfere with the progress of crop movement during October, but this shortage is so minor in comparison with that of 1922 as to be of only small concern to agriculturists. The shortage which has developed has not exceeded a maximum of 10 per cent in any district as compared to 50 or 60 per cent during 1922. This necessarily had tended to produce earlier payments for agricultural products and has started fall business on a sound basis at an early date.

In spite of general improvement the crop situation has remained somewhat spotted. The Valencia orange market has strengthened during the month, and prospects for the coming navel crop are excellent. Lemon prices have weakened but still remain materially in excess of those of a year ago, with indications pointing to a successful growing season for the next year. Harvesting of deciduous fruits has progressed satisfactorily, and while prices have been adjusted to materially lower levels than during the past few years, the situation has tended to improve materially during the month, particularly in connection with canned fruits, where the market has materially stiffened. The walnut, sugar beet and alfalfa situations remain unchanged.

Some uncertainty is evidenced

INAUGURATING the splendid concert series being sponsored by the Glendale Music club, Clarence Whitehill, American baritone, will appear in concert Friday night, October 12 at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. It will be the first meeting of the Music club for the season, predicted as the most brilliant year in the history of the organization.

Mr. Whitehill, who is an Iowan, began his musical studies in Chicago, and from there studied and appeared in concert in all parts of the United States and Europe. He is an exponent of the highest type of music, is well known on the concert stage and has sung in this section of the country on numerous occasions. Besides being an excellent singer, Mr. Whitehill is also a fine actor, and he has a commanding stage appearance.

In outlining the year's activities Mrs. Mattison B. Jones says, "Our aim is to present only the best, as

Legion Auxiliary Aids Bedridden Veterans

Mrs. Nellie S. Hyer of 111 North Louise street, chairman of the hospitalization committee of the local American Legion auxiliary, announces that eight dollars was realized on two beaded chains which were raffled off at the Legion hall Saturday night. The chains were made by bed-ridden ex-service men at the Sawtelle hospital, the money going toward making them more comfortable.

The winners of the chains were Miss Rose Fenster, a visitor in this city from Cleveland, Ohio, and Nelson Dick of 103-A North Brand boulevard.

Mrs. Hyer and Mrs. Margaret Kaeding of 227 North Central avenue are conducting a campaign among Glendale residents in an effort to receive donations of clothing, socks, slippers, bath robes, etc., in order to make life a little more worth living for a number of disabled war heroes who are whiling away their time at the Sawtelle institution. Any donation may be made to either Mrs. Hyer or Mrs. Kaeding.

The local Kiwanis club has supplied the social service room at the hospital with a portable phonograph, a committee of Auxiliary members taking it down yesterday and presenting it to the boys. Phonograph records will also be appreciated by the ex-service men.

Prejudice Outgrowth of Narrow Soul, Claim

"The Weapons of Prejudice" was the theme chosen by Rev. J. C. Livingston for his sermon Sunday morning at the Casa Verdugo Methodist church.

"Prejudice is born of a too narrow mind to determine whether a prophet can possibly come out of Galilee," said the speaker. "The poorest place to go to for the proper measurement of a man is to the camp of the opponent, political, professional or religious." "Prejudice is the machine controlled by the hand of the maliciously narrowed soul in grinding out satire, suspicion and every other thing that can assist in making bankrupt the veracity and credit of the subject."

The choir rendered an anthem, "My Soul, Be On Thy Guard." "The Faultless Man" was the subject of the sermon at the evening service. Mrs. Robert D. Jones sang a soprano solo, "Just Outside the Door."

MODERN FOOL, TOPIC

"The Modern Fool" was the subject of the sermon by Rev. Arthur W. Frodsham last night at Bethel chapel.

Graves of U. S. Heroes At Chateau Thierry Visited by W. B. Kirk

Recalling the world war, W. B. Kirk's travel letter today tells of visiting Chateau Thierry and surrounding battlefields. His account will be of keen interest to all who participated in the great strife and to those who were home and followed the events of the war in government reports, letters from relatives and through the press. Mr. Kirk writes:

"Paris, September 7, 1923.—I must tell you of our trip to the Chateau Thierry district. This part of the battlefields appealed to us particularly because it was where some of our American boys fought so valiantly in the winning of the war and where the only American cemetery on foreign soil is located.

"A ride of ninety-five kilometers along the Marne landed us in the historic town, which is really much larger than I supposed it to be. After a little lunch we hired a taxi to take us to Belleau Wood several miles northwest. On our way out of Chateau Thierry we saw some of the destruction which was done in the town itself and the rebuilding which is being done. We began to mark the trench lines and to see the trees denuded by shot and shell.

"When we reached the Belleau Wood cemetery the young man in charge, Adolph G. Kaess, explained to us very minutely the positions of the armies, showed us the monuments on the hill-sides to the different divisions, pointed out the fifty acres which our government has purchased for the cemetery and the plans for making it beautiful by building roads through it, fencing it, planting trees, plants and flowers.

"After the removal of over 700 bodies to America, about that many more were brought here from other parts of France, so that now about 2200 boys are buried there, their graves marked by white crosses. After the completion of the plans this will be a beautiful memorial, a credit to us and an honor to those who are lying there in their last sleep.

"Most of this work is being paid for by popular subscriptions. If you would like to have a little part in this perpetual testimony to our love for those who died in our behalf, you can send a check for any amount to 'Belleau Wood Memorial Association, Inc.,' Belleau, France, or address Mr. Kaess, The president of the association is Mrs. James Campbell Frazer, the honorary president is the secretary of war, and the chairman of the national committee, the president of the United States.

"I walked up the hill, saw a lot of shell holes overgrown with weeds and flowers, and pulled a few of them. On our way back to Chateau Thierry we came through the villages of Buresches and Vaux, where terrific fighting took place. They were almost completely destroyed, but are rebuilding in a very substantial manner.

"We reached Paris about 7 p. m., coming through the town of Meaux, only about twenty-five miles from Paris, which the Germans reached in their first drive, whence they were driven back with awful slaughter.

Visitor Buys Bakery; Settles in Glendale

Mrs. Eugene Brown, wife of the associate editor of the Los Angeles Times, has been entertaining her brother, Charles Stine, formerly of Freeport, Ill., at her home on Lincoln Avenue. The latter, following the way of all flesh, has become excited over Glendale's future and has bought a bakery at 1379 East Colorado boulevard, near Verdugo road, and has taken immediate possession. He has been in the business for thirty years, and cannot keep his fins out of the dough. He sent for his wife and son, and the family have already become residents. Mrs. Stine is a sister of John Mawhinney, short story writer and former representative of Pauline Fredericks.

"In the Land of Cotton" -the Pacific-Southwest

THE cotton district of the Pacific-Southwest includes the Imperial Valley in California and Mexico, Arizona, and some acreage in the San Joaquin Valley. It is estimated that cotton production from this territory will this year exceed 200,000 bales. This is about 25,000 bales over the 1922 crop, which was valued at approximately $20,000,000.00.

The Pacific-Southwest is probably the world's greatest potential cotton producing area. The yield per acre is from twice to four times that of the old cotton belt in the south. Pest cannot assail our crops. Superior man power is available. We have the advantages of cheap transportation through Los Angeles Harbor to the consuming centers of New England, Europe and the Orient.

This Bank is proud of the part it has had in the development of the cotton industry in the Pacific-Southwest.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.
Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

NORMAL WEIGHT

As I have told you before, while weight is not the only thing by which we judge the physical condition, it is the surest single test we have. We can also say that when there is normal nutrition (evidenced by normal weight) there cannot be any serious disorder present.

Since weight is dependent mostly upon the food eaten, if there is normal weight—and in children a normal rate of gain—we must suppose that the diet is adequate.

Normal babies should be weighed once a week and normal children once a month. Under-nourished or over-nourished children should be weighed once a week until normal weight is attained, and then at least once a month throughout life. If children are taught the importance of maintaining normal weight throughout life we shall cease seeing so many adults sweltering under blankets of fat and so many others shivering in their naked bones.

I am going to give you today a table of average weights of children from birth to the fifth year, and tomorrow I shall give you more on this subject of weight and tables for older children. Cut these tables out and save them for reference.

Heart and Home Problems

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have auburn hair and it has a natural Marcell wave. I would like to know if it would take the curl and wave out if I had it bobbed. Please give me your advice.

CURLY HAIR.

Consult a good barber regarding the curl in your hair. Sometimes most of the wave is at the end of long hair and then when it is cut the hair is straight. In other cases there seems to be more wave after the hair is bobbed. Where there is a tendency toward wave with bobbed hair it can be cultivated by pushing it into waves by means of combs when the hair is wet after it has been washed.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young fellow of twenty-three and never in my life cared for a girl or wanted to have one. I was fancy free until a girl about eighteen came to work in the same shop where I was employed. She seemed to be a good girl but she must have had some kind of magnetism or power in her which affected me a great deal and drew me toward her. I was absolutely drawn toward that young woman.

I loved her from the first instant I saw her and my interest in her grew more and more every day. I suppose she understood my condition but I did not know whether she loved me or not. I had no conversation with her because I thought if she did not love me she might think that I was an intruder.

I have seen her for a good while. Please tell me what to do. She never leaves my mind.

CLYDE J.

You will never get anywhere at the rate you are going. The girl will not think you an intruder if you talk to her and invite her to go somewhere with you or ask to call. To go on dreaming would be foolish since she means so much to you. My advice is to pick up courage and start a conversation, and the name of your city and state.—The Editor.

Copyright, 1923, George Matthews Adams

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young girl in my teens and am very stout. Can you tell me of some way to reduce as it is very uncomfortable to be so fleshy. I weigh two hundred pounds.

WONDERING.

The best way to reduce is to watch your calories. Buy a book on the subject of reducing and be sure to get one which gives you a table of calories so that you can judge how much you are eating each day and how much you ought to be eating. It is also helpful to exercise and most books on the subject of reducing combine advice in regard to diet with helpful exercises. It is not entirely necessary to eliminate any particular kind of food, but it is absolutely necessary to limit the amount of fat producing food which you eat.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Is cold cream and powder injurious to the skin? DOUBTFUL.

Cold cream and powder used moderately are not injurious to the skin. The face should be thoroughly washed in warm water and face soap every night, however, so that the pores will not become clogged.

The busy man has time for everything; the lazy man has no time for anything.

If you'd stay refreshed, drink fresh milk, eat fresh fruit and breathe fresh air.

BEAUTY CHATS

DEVELOP THE BUST

From time to time readers ask me why I have not written much lately upon methods of developing the bust. My answer has always been that the bust has gone completely out of vogue. Look at our fashion papers! Long ladies' dresses, with long, tilted, chins, chests curved inward and abdomens outward, one hip straight, one rounded, the latter reminding me of horses standing and resting one leg.

But flat chests, becoming enough to the straight chemise frock and the Egyptian draperies, are hopeless when the basque bodies that we are sure to wear for another year or so. So we'll have to straighten our hips, pull in our waists, push back our shoulders and draw in a deep breath, to find out how to make the most of our chests. And this drawing in of deep breaths happens to be the best way of developing a flat bust.

Stand uncorseted before an open window, hands on hips, and breathe slowly and deeply six times. Extend your hands in front of you, gradually bring them back, fists doubled, to the shoulders, six times, each time accompanied by drawing a deep breath. Hands in front again, slowly swing the arms around at shoulder level and as far back as you can press them, breathing in each time. Repeat this six times.

Many people recommend massaging the bust gently each day with cocoa butter. Undoubtedly this would help a little. Cocoa butter is very fattening, and massage, by stimulating the circulation of blood, will help a little too. A dash of very cold water or an ice rub is recommended for cases where the bust has been firm and has become thin or has sagged, especially for mothers who have weaned their babies too quickly. Many tonics are sold that are supposed to build up the bust. The best of them contain kaffee. Sometimes they do slightly increase the bust measurement. Any fattening tonic will do that.

Richard T. S.: You have not massaged the muscles enough, which accounts for your failure to reduce them. Have a few professional treatments and notice how the muscles are handled.

TODAY—The Gateway to the Southwest; The Reaction to Oklahoma.

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
For International News Service

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 8.—Kansas City truly called the gateway to the southwest is a unique sort of a metropolis.

It is a combination of the east and the new west with the old southwest.

Petticoat Lane has a touch of Fifth avenue femininity into which is blended the picturesque wide-brimmed hats and the cowhide boots of the rangy cowboys from down in the sun-baked cattle country.

There are other districts where one sees the sulken, hang-dog expression of the dark-faced, shift-eyed "breeds" in the Calle de Diablos of El Paso and where a cocked forty-five would feel more congruous than a walking stick.

Each hotel lobby has a lingo—a round table subject—all its own. In one, a very stylish hotel, it's "Oh Lady, Lady!" The reminiscences of those who "have taken their fun where they found it," and who now are ready to "rove and range" some more.

Another talks about oil—the twinkling little lights over the oil fields—of gushers, a thousand barrels a day, and of millionaires made overnight. Sometimes you find a four-in-hand cravat with a full dress there—but who cares if he's backed by a hundred oil wells.

Yet one doesn't see many evening clothes. Mostly rain and sun colored smockers and rough muddy boots—the conversation about this and that, 10,000 head of fat heifers, grazing lands baked by the long drought, and cattle rustlers who work in the night.

Just to sit around and listen in any of them—it's to breathe a breath of Bret Hart and O. Henry!

Being the port d'entre of the southwest naturally there is some reaction to the Oklahoma marital law situation here. Strangely some of the newspapers that bitterly assail the Ku Klux Klan likewise oppose Governor Walton.

Obviously there's more politics than religion in Oklahoma's debate.

Kansas City has a paternal interest in "Jack" Walton. Once he was a humble salesman of automobile accessories here. He didn't play politics much then, albeit he was affiliated with the so-called "rabbits" faction of the Democratic party.

In Oklahoma he hurried through the city commission to the mayoralty and thence to the state house. Walton was elected as the "Magnus Johnson of Oklahoma," though Magnus wasn't in the political line-up at that time.

In a political speech here Senator James A. Reed paid his compliments to the Oklahoma executive. He characterized the situation as an example of the need for constitutional safeguards in federal and state administration. He said the Oklahoma governor had abused his power.

"Power granted for a good cause can be prostituted and used for bad purposes," Senator Reed remarked.

Senator Reed has no use for the Ku Klux Klan.

"The Klan defames the American flag and insults everyone of the forty-eight stars through its action," he said.

Members of the judiciary should be compelled to answer to the electorate at certain intervals, for approval or disapproval of their conduct in office, was another thought conveyed by Senator Reed, hitting on a subject dear to Senator Robert LaFollette, of Wisconsin.

"The only mistake the framers of the national constitution made was allowing the judiciary life tenure of office," Reed declared.

The entire month of October will be devoted to Kansas City's fall festival, industrial exhibit and automobile races. The "Priests of Pallas," a wonderful pageant in which the floats are built on electric flatcars, is to be, this year, a parade comparable to the famous pageants of Pasadena's annual Tournament of Roses and the New Orleans Mardi Gras, according to the promoters of the event.

Industrially the festival will be host to Kansas City's entire trade territory—the wide expanse to the west and the southwest. A masked ball will be among the social features.

The automobile racing championship of the United States may be decided during the festival at the motor speedway, when such drivers as Hearne, Murphy, Milton, Hartz, Hill and Cooper will drive their speed machines for world records.

Thousands of dollars are being expended in preparation for the month of revelry and it is expected the dollars will be matched each and each by visitors.

'CLINGING VINE' STAR PROTESTS

She Objects To Aged Husband's Dictatorship

Miss Anita Child, heroine of 'Clinging Vine,' objects to aged husband's methods

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—The "clinging vine" sometimes may stand upright and forget to cling.

This was demonstrated in court here when Mrs. Anita Child, 19-year-old clinging vine wife, sought an injunction to restrain her 60-year-old husband and manager from insisting that she cling to him and his "dictatorship."

She is the star of the "Clinging Vine" company playing here. He is the company manager. "It is bad enough to have a jealous husband who is 60 when you are but 19," says Mrs. Child, "but when he is manager and director, too, and wields over you a professional dictatorship, that's too much."

Starring in the "Clinging Vine," Mrs. Child naturally is of that famous type. And she's young and fair, exceedingly fair. But she resents the inference that she is not capable of standing on her own feet and taking care of herself.

Therefore the conclusion is written "the clinging of the species is as independent as the male."

The court granted the injunction.

On the Spur of the Moment

By ROY K. MOULTON

Dear Roy—I have recalled a number of times during the last two years the gist of something you said in your column about the (then) impending Republican convention which was "What's the matter with Cal Coolidge?" Which I took to mean that you thought there wasn't a darn thing the matter with him, and, inference, that you think now there isn't a thing the matter with him; and permit me to state that your opinion has the backing of one who is no slouch as an authority on political careers, myself.

The papers say that the President has some rough sledding ahead of him, but here's hoping that he will find every real American ready and willing to help him over the tough spots.

JACK WILSON.

A LITTLE SLICE OF LIFE IN THE GOOD OLD, ETC.

Oh, joy, the summertime is here, And beautiful skies are o'er us (occasionally).

And, with its multifarious pests, The chigger comes to bore us.

The red ants climb the pantry shelf.

The skitter starts his humming, And, in a very short time now, The 'tater bug is coming.

And at the gay seaside resorts The kiss microbes will gather, And with these little insects have A prosperous year? Well, rather!

So goes the good old summertime: The bugs and microbes share it, But still it beats the winter months, And so we'll try and bear it.

Bartenders once said, "Name your poison, gents." It was a joke then.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— BY HOWARD R. GARIS —

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE HICKORY NUTS

Far, far off in the dark and dismal woods sat the Fuzzy Fox, the Woolly Wolf and the Skillery Scallery Alligator with humps on his tail. They were talking about how to catch Uncle Wiggily so they might nibble his ears.

"I'll tell you what it is," gargled the Alligator, "you may be very smart and clever, Mr. Fox and Mr. Wolf, but you have been trying to catch Uncle Wiggily in the wrong way."

"The wrong way? What do you mean?" cried the Wolf.

"Yes, tell us what you mean," snarled the Fox.

"You should use your tails once in a while," said the Alligator. "I always use my tail when I want to catch anything. I knock down with my tail any rabbit or squirrel I want to catch. And when I knock them down they are so surprised that I can easily catch them. You should do that with Uncle Wiggily."

"Pooh, pooh!" laughed the Fox. "Nonsense!" snapped the Wolf.

"That may be all right for you, Mr. Gator, for your tail is knobby and humpy with lumps on it. But our tails are soft, like dusting brushes."

"That's right," yapped the Fox. "I should like to see you, Mr. Gator, catch Uncle Wiggily just by switching your tail around. I'd like to see you do it."

"Very well, you shall," said the Alligator. "I'll catch that rabbit, and I'll be kind and generous to you and let you each take some teeny weeny nibbles from his ears."

"Ha, ha!" laughed the Fox. "Ho, ho!" laughed the Wolf.

"I'll show you," belloved the Skillery Scallery Alligator with the humps on his tail.

Not long after this Uncle Wiggily started away from his hollow stump bungalow.

"Where are you going?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzzy, his muskrat lady housekeeper.

"I am going to gather hickory nuts from the hickory nut tree in the dark and dismal forest," answered Uncle Wiggily.

"What for?" asked Nurse Jane. "Your teeth are not strong enough to crack the hard hickory nuts. They are only good for squirrels like Johnnie and Billie Bushytail."

"And it is for Johnnie and Billie Bushytail that I am going to gather the hickory nuts from the hickory nut tree in the dark and dismal forest," said Uncle Wiggily.

"The council gave this communication favorable consideration."

POEMS That LIVE

When youthful faith hath fled, Of loving take thy leave; Be constant to the dead— The dead cannot deceive.

Sweet, modest flowers of spring, How fleet your balmy day! And man's brief life can bring No secondary May.

No earthly burst again Of gladness out of gloom, Fond hope and vision vain, Ungrateful to the tomb.

But 'tis an old belief That on some solemn shore, Beyond the sphere of grief, Dear friends shall meet once more.

Beyond the sphere of time And sin and fate's control, Serene in endless prime Of body and of soul.

That creed I fain would keep— That hope I'll not forego— Eternal be the sleep Unless to waken so!

—John Gibson Lockhart.

Timely Views on World Topics

Captain Robert Bartlett, who commanded the ship Roosevelt on which Admiral Robert Peary made his successful dash for the Pole, wants to get back North. He has recently announced plans for an expedition into the arctic to start next June or July and return in four or five years after entering the polar seas through Behring Strait and drifting eastward with the ice to Greenland or Spitzbergen.

The plan is to have a party of ten explorers, including scientists, leave Seattle in a wooden non-magnetics ship, equipped with wireless, a sea-plane, and instruments and equipment for surveying the regions passed through, sounding the waters, and examining and preserving specimens of whatever life may be found.

Peary's old skipper was born at Brigus, Newfoundland. He is 48 years old and unmarried. He began his arctic explorations by wintering with Peary in Kane Basin in 1897-'98. In 1901 he went with a hunting expedition and himself reaching the 88th parallel of north latitude. In 1913-'14 as captain of the Kraluk sent out by the Canadian Government Arctic Expedition, he went through the experience of having his ship crushed in the ice near Wrangel Island. With one Eskimo he crossed the ice to Siberia and brought back a rescuing party.

He was commander of the Third Crocker Land Relief Expedition to North Greenland in 1917, and the same year was appointed Marine Superintendent of the U. S. A. T. Service at New York. He has been awarded numerous gold and silver medals by the leading geographical societies of the world, and is a life member of the American Museum of Natural History. He still considers Brigus, N. F., as his home.

GOV. ARTHUR M. HYDE

A boom has been started in the east to make Governor Arthur M. Hyde of Missouri vice-presidential candidate to pair with President Coolidge in the coming presidential campaign.

The movement intentionally started on the Atlantic shores, has moved westward until it has now reached the Show Me state, according to political depsters.

The strategic value of such an alliance—a western man with the New England leader, can readily be seen.

Governor Hyde is a native of Missouri. He was born in that state, July 12, 1877. He obtained college degrees at the University of Michigan and the State college of Iowa and then began the pracice of law in Princeton in 1900. In 1908 he was elected mayor of Princeton and served two years in that office. In 1915 he moved to Trenton, Mo., and two years ago was elected governor of the state. He is a Republican and a Shriner.

REPORT OUTLOOK IN SOUTH GOOD

Business Continues Upward Trend; Winter Months to Be Prosperous

drilling activities in the oil fields is proceeding, and is coming in such a gradual manner as to argue for adjustment to a more normal petroleum situation without a material slackening in or serious interference with general business prosperity.

Viewpoint On Petroleum
The petroleum situation seems to be improving somewhat, but is still so uncertain as to make definite predictions as to the future unsafe. There are certain indications that the peak of production in the proven areas within the new Southern California fields has now been passed and that the wells whose production has been purposely curtailed have so accommodated themselves to smaller production that there is comparatively little likelihood of their materially increasing their flow permanently. This does not mean that the petroleum situation has returned to normal, or that a normal situation can be expected for some time to come because of the heavy accumulation of stored stocks, continuing unusually large production, and the possibility of the discovery of new producing areas within the Los Angeles basin.

The investment market has followed the general trend of business, with evidence of a tendency toward renewed activity during September. The strong undertone of the market, the reduction in speculative oil activities, and the increasing tendency to thoroughly analyze real estate offerings before making commitments, all argue for the return of money to the investment field, and an improving bond market during the fall months.

The banking situation has shown but minor changes during the month. The increasing call for credit for crop movement has been met without undue strain because of the preparations made by the banking fraternity during the summer months. Interest rates have not increased, but have held strong and steady with the indication that any material expansion in business activities would create such a call for funds as to definitely turn rates upward. The present situation will continue to call for a careful handling of credits during the balance of the year, but with conservative allocation of funds there is little or no likelihood that difficulties in handling of the credit situation will be experienced.

Shows Improvement
District by district the underlying tone has improved during the month. Agricultural communities have found crops moving to market in an orderly manner, with comparatively little distributing difficulties. The San Joaquin valley is suffering somewhat from the reduction in price on midwest grapes and the uncertainty with regard to the size and quality of the raisin crop because of midwest and because of light rains during the middle of September. Offsetting this, crop shortage has been less serious than for several years, and payments for crops, which are commencing to be received, indicate that returns will be sufficient to permit some liquidation in old credits which were carried over into the present season there.

The Imperial valley situation improves steadily and with the present strong cotton prices the valley is expected to be in a much better position than at any time since 1920, by the close of the present crop year. The coast districts north of Los Angeles are harvesting generally satisfactory crops, and although there is some uncertainty with regard to the bean market, the situation continues more favorable than for some time, even in those districts which are suffering from curtailment of oil production. In Orange and San Bernardino counties the agricultural situation continues good, in spite of the comparative weakness of citrus fruit prices and the short grain crops. In the metropolitan area of Los Angeles and immediately contiguous communities prosperity continues with a generally satisfactory outlook.

In other words, in spite of the spotted conditions and uncertainties in a good many lines, the basic economic situation within the Pacific-Southwest is so strong and favorable that the stimulus of fall trade has been sufficient to create a general spirit of tempered optimism which argues for continued prosperity during the winter, with the spirit of caution sufficiently in evidence to indicate that business will be generally maintained on conservative lines without speculation or inflation.

BURBANK MANY FACTORIES SEEK LOCATIONS

Industrial Advancement Seen
In Demand for Sites
Along S. P. Tracks

Concerns manufacturing shoes, perfume, gypsum building tile and talcum powder are among those that contemplate locating in Burbank, reports J. W. Fawkes, whose industrial tract adjoins the Southern Pacific railroad. Mr. Fawkes states that he has been told by Espee officials to let no more sites go between Lake and Flower streets, from which the inference is drawn that the company has these spoken for.

"Step by step," says Mr. Fawkes, "Burbank is advancing in an industrial way. To be a self-supporting city we must have a pay-roll. This we are getting. Expansion of the residential districts will follow inevitably."

Tony Gage Thanked
The Burbank Realty Board has extended to Tony Gage a vote of thanks for his work on the Monroe Doctrine exposition, held recently at Los Angeles. This action was taken to stop criticism and show the public that the board appreciates Mr. Gage's work.

The board has passed resolutions that hereafter banks shall not allow commissions to be paid brokers on account of real estate deals until the escrows have been closed. This action was taken in response to the New First National bank, asking that something be done to stop overdrafts. Those who do not pay the $10 installment of the Realty board dues now current will be dropped from membership, it is stated by President Thompson, the money being needed to pay for work done in connection with the exposition.

MONTROSE HIGHWAY REPAIR PLANS OUTLINED

Street Improvement Program for Montrose Discussed at Meeting

Falling into line with neighboring organizations, the Montrose Chamber of Commerce outlined a street improvement program at the regular monthly meeting. A committee will endeavor to have important streets improved immediately.

Montrose avenue was considered the most important by the members present. It was agreed that a large proportion of the county road fund for the district should be spent on this heavily traveled street. The supervisors have already agreed to spend in the neighborhood of $200,000 on it is the hope of the chamber and all interested in the development of Montrose that several other streets, Florentia and Fairview avenues in particular, may be included in the grading work for next year.

Streets Need Repair
Many streets in the thickly populated district are badly in need of grading and surfacing to accommodate the traffic they carry. The road committee appointed by the chamber, consisting of T. O. Potts, A. E. Sullivan and F. B. Turner, were instructed to press this matter vigorously.

Another important question of road improvement discussed was the condition of Verdugo road north of Glendale. A motion carried instructing the secretary to communicate with the Glendale City Council and the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, asking these organizations to take some action toward having this stretch of road improved.

Red flicker-lights were recommended for the corners at Ocean View avenue and the highway and Montrose and Ocean View by the officials of the Southern California Automobile Club, according to a report by Fred Anderson. These lights will be placed to increase the safety at these corners. Mr. Anderson reported that the lights have been ordered and are now on the way here from the east.

Advocate Montrose
Publicity work under Carroll W. Pacher and committee has been reported on. A descriptive folder has been compiled for mailing, among other features of the "Know Montrose" campaign, the chamber has undertaken.

That no decrease in water rates would be justifiable at the present time was the opinion of the committee appointed at the last meeting to seek a reduction from the La Brea Mutual Water Company. Mr. Clark read the report, in which it was stated that the committee had conferred with officials of the water company and had been furnished with statistics on the company's financial condition. They found that the water company has paid off an indebtedness of $2500 in the last two years besides increasing the service and adding new equipment.

Directors Praised
On the strength of their findings the Chamber of Commerce committee decided that it would weaken the company's service and retard future expansion to have the rates reduced at this time and recommended that no action be taken at this time, commending the directors of the water company highly for the showing made.

A dance and get-together entertainment was voted for, to be held on the first day of the new Montrose school house is available. The building is scheduled to be held after the regular business session.

Bank Adds Clerk
Rapidly increasing business at the Montrose State bank has made it necessary for the directors to authorize the employment of an additional clerk to handle work in the escrow department.

In the comparatively short time in which the bank has been established there has been a remarkable growth in business in all departments.

The financial statement shows a substantial increase over all previous statements, especially the first one compiled.

Telephone cables are being laid in the Verdugo canyon by the telephone company to serve the Montrose territory. These will augment the cables already in use and relieve the congestion that occurs at times.

Local Notes of Interest

Mrs. Frances W. Brown, postmaster at the Montrose office, has received the long expected money-order supplies and can now take orders from local patrons. This office is now equipped to handle all branches of postal business.

A hardware store is to be operated in the Weber building, corner of Los Angeles and Montrose avenues, by E. E. Laughrey. He was formerly in South Pasadena and has had considerable experience in the business.

Sermon Excerpts And News Notes From Local Churches

CHURCH'S ORIGIN TOLD IN SERMON

Christian Denomination Now Has 1,500,000 Members; Rev. Cole Praised

"Forefathers' Day" was observed yesterday at the Central Christian church.

The origin of the Christian church, which is the oldest denomination founded in America, was traced in the morning sermon. It was founded in 1809 in western Pennsylvania and was an offshoot from the Presbyterian and Baptist churches in order to plead for Christian unity.

A million and a half persons are now members of this denomination. Its growth last year was about 51,000 members. Its offering for foreign missions alone last year was $1,500,000. Missionaries are now being supported in ten foreign fields: India, China, Japan, Africa, the Philippines, Hawaii, Argentina, Central Mexico, the West Indies and Tibet.

Eighty-five Churches
Southern California now boasts of eighty-five Christian churches. These have a membership of 26,000.

The first church of this denomination to be established in Southern California is located at Temple street and Broadway, Los Angeles, and is known as the Broadway Christian church. It was founded about forty years ago by B. F. Coulter, who also organized in Los Angeles the Coulter Dry Goods Company.

The Central Christian church of Glendale is one of the fifteen "children" of the Broadway Christian church. It was founded in 1908 by Rev. J. W. Utter, assistant pastor of this church. He occupied the local pulpit for five years. From 1913 to 1916 Rev. E. E. Francis, who is now pastor of a church in the state of Washington, officiated. He was succeeded by Rev. C. A. Cole of 132 South Kenwood street, who was formerly pastor of the Compton Heights Christian church at St. Louis.

Rev. Cole Is Praised
Compliments were showered upon Rev. Cole yesterday upon the growth of the local church. It now has a membership of 700.

Its offering for foreign missions last year was $3400, while its total gifts amount to about $31,000. Its new home cost $94,000 while the total valuation of the property now is approximately $125,000. Although it has not been cleared of debt, yet enough pledges have been made to do so.

"Babylon," by Adams, was the title of a baritone solo by Harry J. Mulliken, of the Glendale church. The anthem was Shelley's "God Is Love."

"The Life of Abraham" was the subject of a stereopticon lecture at the evening service. A double quartet sang Ashford's "The Lord Is My Shepherd." This was composed of Mrs. C. C. Stoler, 1239 Broadway; Mrs. A. C. Williams, 121 South Isabel street; Mrs. R. P. Jodon, 133 South Kenwood street; Miss Eva A. Garton, 402 East Harvard street; Gordon D. Mize, 141 North Kenwood street; H. C. Cox, 605 East Lomita avenue; D. Davidson, 206 South Orange street, and Harry Marple.

Family Day Observed Tropico Presbyterian

"Family Day" was observed yesterday morning at the Tropico Presbyterian church. Dr. James F. Winnard chose for his theme "The Whole Family Saved" and based his remarks on the story of Noah and his family.

"In this instance," he remarked, "the safety of the whole family depended on the father. To him God had given divine instructions as to the impending flood and the preparation he was to make for it. For 120 years he labored at his task, meanwhile warning the thoughtless inhabitants. But there were none to give heed."

Then came the flood and Noah and his family were saved. The ark of safety. Noah had failed God at any point in all those years, his family would have suffered the loss.

"How many fathers there are now who are so busy with the things of this world that they do not give attention to the family about them. Their children grow up to manhood without counsel or direction. And the fathers are largely to blame that juvenile delinquency is as prevalent."

ALL EAT PEOPLE SHOULD KNOW THIS

Fat people owe a debt of gratitude to the author of the now famous Marmola Prescription, and are still more indebted for the reduction of this harmless, effective obesity remedy to tablet form. Marmola Prescription Tablets can be obtained at all drug stores the world over at the reasonable price of one dollar a case, or $2.00 can secure them direct on receipt of price from the Marmola Co., 4612 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich. This now leaves no excuse for dieting, violent exercise, or disgusting greases and salves, for the reduction of the overfat body to normal. Advertisement.

Methodists Organize in New Church Home

Yesterday proved to be a red letter day for the Broadway Methodist church, marked by a day of unusual activity. This was the first service held in the building since the new owners secured possession of the church property from the Presbyterians. Sunday school was well attended, and six departments were organized under six officers and ten teachers. At the 11 o'clock hour the pastor, Rev. L. J. Millikan, preached a sermon on the commandment of the church to carry the gospel to every creature, and God's promise never to forsake his faithful followers. At the close of the sermon nine new members were enrolled. Mrs. Charles E. Millikan of Los Angeles sang a solo, and Mr. and Mrs. Will J. Myers sang a duet.

At 2:30 there was a meeting of the Sunday school workers council conducted by Rev. M. L. Cheek of Pomona, who is the conference Sunday school organizer for the district. At 6:30 the Epworth League session was held, the chief feature of interest being the installation of its officers, conducted by the pastor. Officers installed were: E. W. Rye, president; Mrs. George F. Newman, vice-president and superintendent first department; Miss Dale Smith, superintendent second department; Miss Maud Bigham, superintendent third department; Donald M. Castlen, superintendent fourth department; Miss Corrine Grose, secretary; Irvin Grose, treasurer; Miss Gertrude Eldens, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. L. J. Millikan, superintendent junior department. Mr. Millikan's address to the new officers was instructive and very impressive.

At the evening service the pastor preached an evangelistic sermon, taking for his theme David and Goliath.

Lack of Spirituality Church's Main Need

"Just as in physics there is a force known as cohesion, by which the molecules of the same body are held together, so is there a force in the spiritual life, which we may call spiritual cohesiveness which holds the body of believers together, solidifies them, and welds them into a unity of purpose, motive, affection and life. And that force is the Spirit of God."

This assertion was made by Rev. H. C. Mullen yesterday morning at the Pacific Avenue Methodist church.

"The shortcoming of the church is due to its failure to respond to the challenge of Pentecost. The weakness of the church is not due to lack of members, wealth, or culture, but to lack of an all-pervading spirituality. If the men and women of the church today would give themselves in whole-hearted consecration to the Lord, there would fall upon the church today, as in the long ago, the Spirit of God, and make of the church a conquering power against which the gates of hell could not prevail."

Livingston President of Ministerial Assn.

Rev. C. J. Livingston, pastor of the Casa Verdugo Methodist church, was elected president of the Glendale Ministerial association for 1923-24, at the last meeting of that organization. Rev. Livingston is entering the third year as pastor of the charge in Casa Verdugo.

"THE CAT AND THE CANARY"

AT MASON OPERA HOUSE

No play produced in this generation has received more enthusiastic praise than "The Cat and the Canary," which continues at the Mason Opera House, during the coming week.

The play, which recently had a remarkable engagement in San Francisco, is a drama of the "thriller" sort, and it provides the acme of entertainment for those who delight in thrills to the "nth" power. But, while "The Cat and the Canary" is called a thriller, it might better be termed a comedy drama, for the author has woven into his story comedy of such wide appeal that it is a moot question whether there are more thrills or laughs in its telling. The idea that the play will only shock should not prevent any timid ones from attending the performance, for "The Cat and the Canary" is in every respect an exceptional entertainment.

There are four companies on tour in "The Cat and the Canary" and all of them of such quality that one can replace the other at any time. The cast now playing in Los Angeles includes Elsie Hilt, Robert Tombs, Alma Kruger, William Bonelli, Bertha Lowe, Harry Oldridge, Antoinette Richte, M. J. Briggs, Roy La Rue and Robert A. Bennett.

This drama has the unique record of having played two distinct engagements in New York. The first was for over a year and the second was for some three months. "The Cat and the Canary" provides entertainment for all sorts of people and without thought for age.—Advertisement.

MONTH'S BUILDING TOTALS $160,630

Figures Reveal Increase in Activity in September Construction Work

The total of $160,630 in building permits issued here during September exceeds the $103,875 total of September, 1922, by $56,755 and is $15,880 more than the $144,750 recorded for August of this year, show figures just issued by the building department.

September, moreover, was the biggest month this year since record-breaking May, with its $318,750 of permits. There were 121 permits issued during September of this year, furthermore, which is an excess of twenty-four over the total for the previous month.

Practically all permits call for small homes, the largest single figure on the list being $9000 for the roomy residence Dr. E. R. Butterfield is building on Sherlock drive. No other permit exceeded $6000, while the majority ran just about half that much.

Mexican Methodist Church
A Mexican Methodist church has been organized in Burbank, with C. E. Ballesteros in charge. Over 100 local Mexicans attended the services at the opening on Sunday, September 30, when Dr. Eucario M. Sein, pastor of the Mexican Methodist church of San Fernando conducted the exercises. The sermon was preached by Carlos L. Andeuz, a former Catholic priest converted to Protestantism in the Philippines by the preaching of that ardent Methodist, Bishop Locke.

Carlos L. Andeuz is taking courses at the University of Southern California, after which he plans to return to Spain and preach Methodism in the land of the Padres.

Among other Mexicans of the Methodist persuasion present at the opening services of the new church were the members of an orchestra directed by C. E. Ballesteros.

Express Delivered Free
Another good step in the development of Burbank is taken in the institution of free delivery by the American Railway Express Company.

Credit for this consummation, which has been devoutly wished goes in the main to M. E. Gilbert, local agent, who has been working for over two months to get free delivery approved, feeling the city was ripe for it.

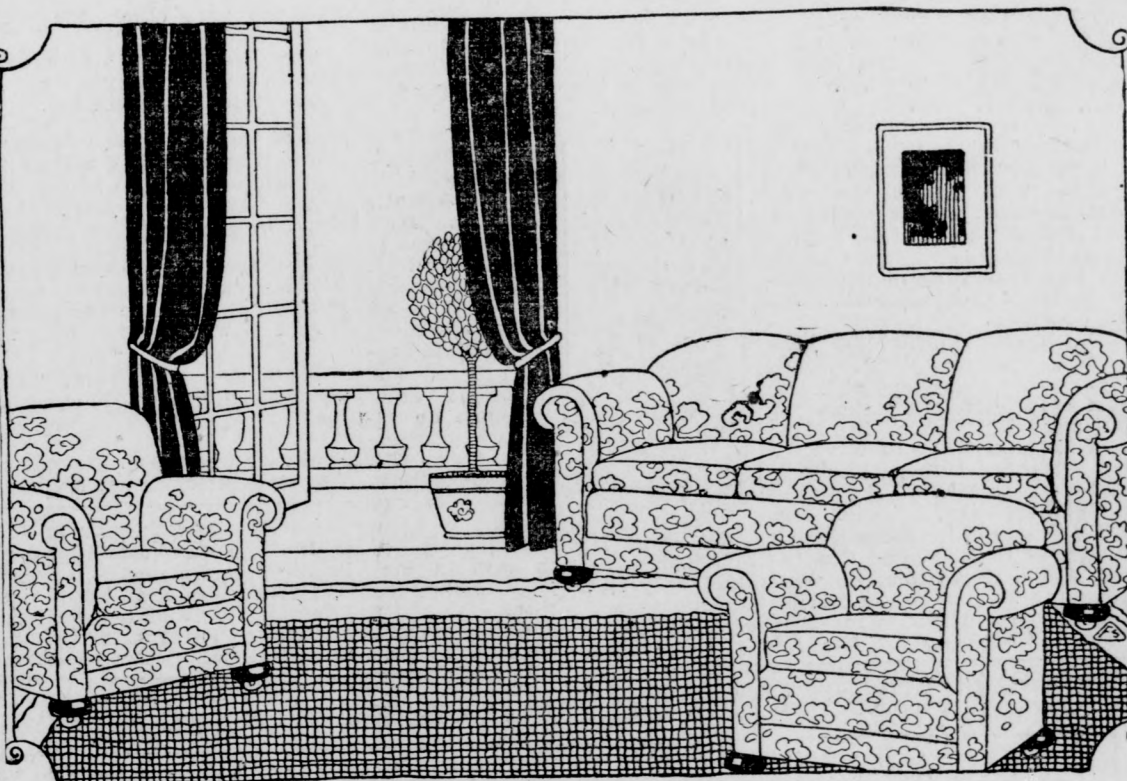

The territory included in the free zone is bounded by Front street on the south, Cypress avenue on the west, Tenth street on the north and Providencia avenue on the east.

Express consigned to residents outside the district will be delivered for a nominal charge, states Mr. Gilbert, who calls attention to the fact that inside the free district, packages will hereafter be picked up on call.

Mr. and Mrs. Jason Bealls have arrived from Bakersfield and will make their home in Burbank. Mr. Bealls will be in charge of a department at the new J. C. Penny store soon to open in the Sensa Building.
